Legend: B.C. dates at top of timeline are approximate. Note that 931 BC marks the division of the Kingdom into Southern Tribes (Judah and Benjamin) and Ten Northern Tribes. To avoid confusion be aware that after the division of the Kingdom in 931 BC, the Southern Kingdom is most often designated in Scripture as "Judah" and the Northern Kingdom as "Israel." Finally, note that 1 Chronicles 1-9 is not identified on the timeline because these chapters are records of genealogy.

1 Chronicles 9:21 Zechariah the son of Meshelemiah was gatekeeper of the entrance of the tent of meeting.

DAVID'S DIVISION OF

THE GATEKEEPERS

This chapter on divisions can be simply divided:

- Divisions of the Gatekeepers - 1Ch 26:1-11
- Keepers of the Treasure - 1Ch 26:12-19
- Duties of Levites outside Temple - 1Ch 26:29-32

Utey - The list of Levites who were gatekeepers, treasure guardians, and civil judges is pre-figured in 1 Chronicles 23. The list comes from several periods of Israel's history. (1) David (2) Solomon (3) post-exilic. The number and places of the gates varied from (1) Solomon's temple, (2) the second temple, (3) later additions on Ezekiel's eschatological temple (Ezekiel 40-48)

The gates of the Temple...

- (1) The east gate was main gate (cf, tabernacle) in 1Chr. 26:14 called "the king's gate" in 1Ch 9:18 with six assigned guards.
- (2) The south gate closest to David's palace with direct access to the temple area (1Ch 26:15) with four assigned guards.
- (3) The west gate called "the gate of Shallecheth" (1Ch 26:16) in the rear gate and may have opened into a courtyard or pavilion. It had four guards for the road and for the pavilion.
- (4) The north gate (prominent in Ezekiel) in 1Ch 26:14 with four guards.

Matthew Henry sums up chapter 26 - "There were porters (GATEKEEPERS) appointed to attend the temple, who guarded all the avenues that led to it, opened and shut all the outer gates and attended at them, not only for the state, but for service, to direct and instruct those who were going to worship in the courts of the sanctuary in the decorum they were to observe, to encourage those that were timorous, to send back the strangers and unclean, and to guard against thieves and others that were enemies to the house of God."

For the divisions of the gatekeepers there were of the Korahites, Meshelemiah (aka Shelemiah in 1Ch 26:14) the son of Kore, of the sons of Asaph (see note below - aka Ebiasaph in 1Ch 9:19) - There are other lists of gatekeepers in see 1Ch 9:17-27 and 1Ch 16:37-38). 1 Chronicles 23:5 says "4,000 (LEVITES) were gatekeepers." Their role was guarding the Temple day and night to prevent unauthorized persons from entering and profaning it." They were arranged according to their families (1Ch 26:1-19) to take charge of the doors and gates of the temple. They were sometimes employed as musicians (1Ch 15:18). Gatekeeper duties are described in 1Ch 9:22-29.

William MacDonald on the Korahites - Here we find the Korahites (1Ch 26:1), "... their duty being to prevent the presumption of which their father was guilty (Num. 16). Such are the ways of God." (Borrow Believer's Bible Commentary)

To summarize chapter 26, note that these officials included gatekeepers (1Ch 26:1-19), treasurers (1Ch 26:20-28), and miscellaneous officials scattered outside Jerusalem (1Ch 26:29-32).

ESV Study Bible \(borrow\) - The primary duty of the Levitical gatekeepers was to safeguard the sanctuary from trespass by unauthorized persons and from defilement by idolatrous practices (see 2Ch 29:3-7). They were also responsible for the temple treasuries and the maintenance of the building and its equipment (see 1Ch 9:22-32). The gatekeepers played a vital role in aiding the high priest Jehoiada in opposing Athaliah (2Ch 23:4-8, 19), and in the reforms by Hezekiah (2Ch 31:14) and Josiah (2Ch 34:9). The gatekeepers included the families of Meshelemiah (1Ch 26:1-3, 9), Obed-edom (1Ch 26:4-8), and Hosah (1Ch 26:10-11; see 1Ch 16:38).

Life Application Study Bible \(borrow\) - There were 4,000 gatekeepers (1Ch 23:5). They were all Levites and did many other jobs as well. Some of their duties included (1) checking out the equipment and utensils used each day and making sure they were returned, (2) storing, ordering, and maintaining the food supplies for the priests and sacrifices, (3) caring for the furniture, (4) mixing the incense that was burned daily, and (5) accounting for the gifts brought. (For more on gatekeepers, see 1Ch 9:17, 18.)

Selman - Though less prominent than some of their Levitical colleagues, from time to time the gatekeepers made a vital contribution to national life, notably under the high priest Jehoiada (2Ch 23:4-6, 19), and in the reigns of Hezekiah (2Ch 31:14-19) and Josiah (2Ch 34:9-13)....Essentially their duty was to make ordinary people aware of the practical limits of holiness for anyone entering the sanctuary unlawfully did so on penalty of death." (Borrow 1 Chronicles : an introduction and commentary)

Guzik comments "Though some might see their work as humble, it was actually of great privilege. Remember the envy of the Psalmist: I would rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God than dwell in the tents of wickedness. (Psalm 84:10)

Utey on the gatekeepers - Some of the Levites served as "temple guardians" or "temple watchmen." They are listed in 1Ch 9:17-27 and numbered along with the singers in 1Ch 16:37-43. They are also mentioned in the second temple post-exilic period (cf. Ezra

2:42,70; 7:24; 10:24; Neh. 10:28; 11:19). Their tasks involved security and access.

Meshelemiah apparently had a number of names, the ISBE stating "He is the "Shelemiah" of 1 Ch 26:14, the "Shallum" of 1 Ch 9:17,19,31, and the "Meshullam" of Neh 12:25."

TSK Note - divisions of gatekeepers: There were four classes of these, each of which belonged to the four gates of the temple, which opened to the four cardinal points of heaven. The eastern gate fell to Shelemiah; the northern to Zechariah, (ver. 14;) the southern to Obed-edom, (ver. 15;) and the western to Shuppim and Hosah, (ver. 16.) These several persons were captains of these door-keepers at the different gates. There were probably a thousand men under each of these captains; as we find, from 1Ch 23:5, that their whole number was four thousand.

MacArthur on gatekeepers (or guards as we would call them today) - They had other duties, such as checking out equipment and utensils; storing, ordering and maintaining food for the priests and sacrifices; caring for the temple furniture; mixing the incense daily burned; and accounting for gifts brought. Their "duties" (1Ch 26:12) are given in 1Ch 9:17-27. (Borrow The MacArthur Study Bible)

ISBE description of gatekeepers - In the Old Testament, except in 2Sa 18:26; 2 Ki 7:10,11, the porter (sho`er) is a sacred officer of the temple or tabernacle, belonging to a particular family of the Levites, with a share in the sacred dues (Neh 13:5; 12:47). The "porters" are mentioned only in Chronicles, Ezra and Nehemiah, and Chronicles has a special interest in them, relating that their duties were settled as far back as the time of David (1Ch 26:1-19), and that the office extended further to the first settlement of Palestine and even to Moses' day (1Ch 9:17-26). The office was evidently one of some dignity, and the "chief-porters" (1Ch 9:26) were important persons.

NIV Study Bible \(borrow\) note on Asaph - "This name appears to be an abbreviation of Ebiasaph (1Ch 6:23; 9:19); he should not be confused with the temple musician (125:1-2,6)." NAVE's agrees Asaph here is "A Kohath Levite, 1 Chr. 26:1." HCSB Note adds "Possibly "Asaph" here should read "Ebiasaph" instead, as does the LXX. Compare also "Ebiasaph" at 1Ch 9:19. Utley has this note on Asaph "In 1 Chr. 6:23; 9:19, he is named "Ebiasaph." Trapp agrees that this is "Not that famous Asaph the singer, but another Asaph, called also Ebiasaph, 1 Chronicles 6:37."

THOUGHT - This chapter is about gatekeepers, men posted to guard entry into the holy temple of God lest anything or anyone profane be allowed to enter and to defile the holiness. Can we not see the clear application to our lives in light of the words of Paul? He asks if we remember that our "body is a temple of the Holy Spirit Who is in you, Whom you have from God, and that you are not your own? For you have been bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body." (1Cor 6:19-20+) Here is the critical takeaway - We must all CONTINUALLY "post a guard" at the doorway of our heart, so that every avenue for sin's entry is blocked. It is when the sentry falls asleep that the temple is most likely to be entered by our mortal enemies the world, the flesh and the devil. And so even Solomon gives the following command (sadly one he himself failed to obey in his later years. Woe to all us older folks!)

Watch over your heart with all diligence,
(WHY?) For from it flow the springs of life.
Proverbs 4:23+

F B Meyer - Our Daily Homily - 1 Chronicles 26:1 For the courses of the doorkeepers. (R. V.)

Mighty men of valor were needed for this, just as sweet singers were for the service of song. Entrance to the House of God was restricted to a privileged few. Gentiles were excluded from certain courts, and women from another. It was incumbent also to look out for those who, like the publican in the Lord's parable, might shrink from intruding, and encourage them to enter. Doorkeepers had to combine many qualities, which would be of the greatest service if they could be repeated in each church and chapel of our great cities, for welcoming old and young.

But chiefly we are concerned with the temple of the heart. We surely need the doorkeeper there, for in the history of the inner life there is so much going and coming; such troops of thoughts pour into the shrine of the soul, and pour out. And often, in the crowd, disloyal and evil thoughts intrude, which, before we know it, introduce a sense of distance and alienation from God, as though a cloud had veiled the shining of the Shekinah. Whenever the sky is overcast within, we should question whether some traitor, some excommunicate, has entered. Our native wit is not quick enough to detect, and our strength not mighty enough to withstand, the entrance of all these evil things. Hence the necessity not only to live in the Spirit, but to walk in the Spirit, i. e., to submit everything to the Spirit's scrutiny.

It is necessary also that strict supervision should be exercised over those who unite with the visible Church, lest her holiness become diluted, and her fences broken down. Nothing is more important than the function of doorkeeping for the Church's purity

1 Chronicles 26:2 Meshelemiah had sons: Zechariah the firstborn, Jediahel the second, Zebadiah the third, Jathniel the fourth,

Related Passage:

FIRST MAJOR DIVISION OF GATEKEEPERS 1Ch 26:1-3

Meshelemiah ("whom Jehovah repays") had sons: Zechariah the firstborn, Jediahel ("God makes known") the second, Zebadiah ("endowment of Jehovah") the third, Jathniel ("God hires me") the fourth - Zechariah is not the famous prophet who wrote the prophecy by his name in the Bible (there are some 29 individuals with this same name in the Bible! Context is king in discerning who each name represents!) but was a son of Meshelemiah, and was a "gatekeeper of the door of the tent of meeting" at the time of David (1Ch 9:21; 26:2,14). In 1Ch 26:14 "Then they cast lots for his son Zechariah, a counselor with insight, and his lot came out to the north."

Elam the fifth, Johanan the sixth, Eliehoenai the seventh

1 Chronicles 26:4 Obed-edom had sons: Shemaiah the firstborn, Jehozabad the second, Joah the third, Sacar the fourth, Nethanel the fifth,

- Obed edom: 1Ch 15:18,21,24 16:5,38

THE BLESSING OF OBED-EDOM

Obed-edom had sons: Shemaiah the firstborn, Jehozabad the second, Joah the third, Sacar the fourth, Nethanel the fifth - Obed-Edom had been a gatekeeper from the time of the bringing up of the Ark into Jerusalem (1Ch 15:24; 16:38). Obed-Edom appears to have had a double appointment of both singer and temple guard (see 1Ch 15:21; 16:38). Recall that Obed-edom had sheltered the ark, after the death of Uzza (1Ch 13:14) and God had not forgotten his faithfulness.

THOUGHT - Obedience and dedication to Yahweh will receive a reward, sometimes in this life, but for sure in the life to come. Does that great truth (and the story of Obed-edom) not motivate you to discipline yourself for godliness, knowing that godliness holds promise not only for this life but the life to come! Incredible, indelible grace! (cf 1Ti 4:7-8+).

There is a question whether this Obed-edom is the same as the man who housed the Ark (1Ch 13:14) and some Bible Dictionaries consider him the same but others consider him to be a different individual. I personally believe he was the same because of the mention of his blessing in 1Ch 13:14 and the mention of blessing of in 1Ch 26:5.

NEW UNGER'S BIBLE DICTIONARY - O'BED-EDOM ("servant of Edom").

A Levite of the family of Korhites and belonging to the class of gatekeepers (1Ch 15:18, 24). He is called a Gittite, or Gathite, from his birthplace, the Levitical city of Gath-rimmon in the tribe of Dan. After the death of Uzzah, the Ark, which was being conducted from the house of Abinadab in Gibeah to the city of David, was carried aside into the house of Obed-edom, where it remained three months, during which time Obed-edom was greatly prospered (1Ch 13:14). It was brought from that place by David (1Ch 15:25), about 986 B.C. It was Obed-edom the Gittite who was appointed to play "with lyres tuned to the sheminith" (1Ch 15:21; 16:5, 38). He is probably the same person mentioned in 1Ch 26:4-8.

TYNDALE BIBLE DICTIONARY - OBED-EDOM

1. Man under whose care David placed the ark of the covenant when he was transferring it from Gibeah to Jerusalem (2Sa 6:10–12; 1Ch 13:5–14). He is called a Gittite, which indicates that his birthplace was Gath. This was not the Philistine city of Gath but the Levitical town in the territory of Dan known as Gath-rimmon (Jos 19:45). It is likely that Obed-edom was a Levite and therefore qualified to care for the ark of the covenant. Uzzah's rash action in steadying the ark when the oxen stumbled brought upon him immediate death. David's consternation and fear at this turn of events led him to reconsider his intention of bringing the ark to Jerusalem. Apparently Obed-edom's home was nearby and it was convenient to leave the ark in his care. When David was informed after three months that the Lord had greatly blessed Obed-edom, he realized that the judgment that fell on Uzzah was incurred because the ark was carried contrary to the method prescribed in the Law (Nu 4:15; 7:9) and not because the Lord was angry with Uzzah. He ordered that the ark be taken from Obed-edom's home and carried to Jerusalem in the proper manner (1 Chr 15:25–28). Apparently Obed-edom was rewarded for his faithful service by being appointed a gatekeeper for the ark in Jerusalem (1Ch 15:24; 1Ch 26:4, 8, 15). But some scholars believe that Obed-edom the gatekeeper was a man other than the one referred to above.

2. Levitical musician who ministered before the ark (1 Chr 15:21; 16:5, 38). He was the son of Jeduthun, one of David's chief singers. Some scholars think that the musician and singer were different men.

3. Levitical guardian of the sacred vessels of the temple taken hostage by Joash (2 Chr 25:24).

EASTONS - Obed-Edom [EBD] servant of Edom. (1.) "The Gittite" (probably so called because he was a native of Gath-rimmon), a Levite of the family of the Korhites (1 Chr. 26:1, 4-8), to whom was specially intrusted the custody of the ark (1 Chr. 15:18). When David was bringing up the ark "from the house of Abinadab, that was in Gibeah" (probably some hill or eminence near Kirjath-jearim), and had reached Nachon's threshing-floor, he became afraid because of the "breach upon Uzzah," and carried it aside into the house of Obededom (2 Sam. 6:1-12). There it remained for six months, and was to him and his house the occasion of great blessing. David then removed it with great rejoicing to Jerusalem, and set it in the midst of the tabernacle he had pitched for it.

(2.) A Merarite Levite, a temple porter, who with his eight sons guarded the southern gate (1 Chr. 15:18, 21; 26:4, 8, 15).

(3.) One who had charge of the temple treasures (2 Chr. 25:24).

NAVE OBED-EDOM

1. Korhite Levite. Doorkeeper of the ark, 1 Chr. 15:18, 24; 26:4-8.

David leaves ark with, 2 Sam. 6:10; 1 Chr. 13:13, 14.

Ark removed from, 2 Sam. 6:12; 1 Chr. 15:25.

Appointed to sound with harps, 1 Chr. 15:21.

Appointed to minister before the ark, 1 Chr. 16:4, 5, 37, 38.

2. A doorkeeper of the temple, 1 Chr. 16:38.

3. A conservator of the vessels of the temple in time of Amaziah, 2 Chr. 25:24.

1 Chronicles 26:5 Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh and Peullethai the eighth; God had indeed blessed him.

- him: 1Chr 13:14." Ps 128:1

OBED-EDOM BLESSED BY LORD

Ammiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh and Peullethai the eighth; God had indeed blessed him - Obed-edom had been blessed by God, many sons being viewed by the Jews as the blessing of the LORD. This blessing was alluded to in 1 Chronicles 13:14 "Thus the ark of God remained with the family of Obed-edom in his house three months; and the LORD blessed the family of Obed-edom with all that he had."

Life Application Study Bible \(borrow\) - God had richly blessed Obed-edom." The status of children in society has fluctuated throughout history; sometimes they are highly esteemed, and sometimes abused and cheated. But Scripture shows no such vacillation—children are called a gift from the Lord, and God never views them as a burden (Psalm 127:3-5; Mark 10:13-15).

1 Chronicles 26:6 Also to his son Shemaiah sons were born who ruled over the house of their father, for they were mighty men of valor.

NET 1 Chronicles 26:6 His son Shemaiah also had sons, who were leaders of their families, for they were highly respected.

CSB 1 Chronicles 26:6 Also, to his son Shemaiah were born sons who ruled over their ancestral houses because they were strong, capable men.

ESV 1 Chronicles 26:6 Also to his son Shemaiah were sons born who were rulers in their fathers' houses, for they were men of great ability.

NLT 1 Chronicles 26:6 Obed-edom's son Shemaiah had sons with great ability who earned positions of great authority in the clan.

NRS 1 Chronicles 26:6 Also to his son Shemaiah sons were born who exercised authority in their ancestral houses, for they were men of great ability.

NJB 1 Chronicles 26:6 His son Shemaiah also had sons who wielded authority in their family, because they were men of outstanding quality.

- mighty men of valor: 1Ch 26:8 12:28 Jdg 6:12 2Sa 2:7 *marg: 2Ch 26:17 Ne 11:14 1Ti 6:12 2Ti 2:3

MIGHTY MEN OF VALOR

Also to his son Shemaiah (see note 8 & 9) sons were born who ruled over the house of their father, for they were mighty (gibbor) men of valor (chayil; Lxx - dunatos - powerful, strong, able) - NET = "they were highly respected." ESV = "they were men of great ability." NJB = "they were men of outstanding quality." Note that Shemaiah (see note 8 & 9), Obed-edom's son, is a different person than Shemaiah the secretary whose father was Nathanel (1Ch 24:6).

TSK Note - They were not only porters, or door keepers, in the ordinary sense of the word, but they were a military guard to the gate, as Dr. Delaney suggests that the word {shoarim} should be rendered here: and perhaps in this sense alone are we to understand their office, which appears to have been of considerable dignity, and conferred only on men of the first rank. They were appointed to attend the temple, to guard all the avenues to it, to open and shut all the outer gates, and attend at them, not only for state but for service. They were also required to direct and instruct those who were going to worship in the courts of the sanctuary in the conduct they were to observe, to encourage those who were timid, to send back the strangers and unclean, and to guard against thieves and others who were enemies to the house of God.

Mighty (01368) gibbor cp related verb gabar = be strong, accomplish, excel, prevail) is from a root which is commonly associated with warfare and has to do with the strength and vitality of the successful warrior. And thus this adjective means powerful, strong, brave, mighty. Warrior. Hero. Mighty man (cp "mighty [gibbor] men of David" - 2Sa 23:8). See discussion of this word group from TWOT - Gibbor Word Group.

Gibbor is also used in 1Ch 26:31 translated "men of outstanding capability."

Valor (valiant, able, capable, capability) (02428) chayil strength, wealth, army. This word has the basic idea of strength and influence. C P Weber - In the sense of "strength," "power," or "might" in general, hayil is used about twenty times: of God (Psalm 59:11), from God (Ps 18:32), physical strength of a man (Eccles. 10:10),

CASTING LOTS FOR PLACES OF SERVICE

They cast lots, the small and the great alike, according to their fathers' households, for every gate- Note that these lots were not for periods of service, as in the previous allotments, but for places of service.

Selman "A very important point is made by the inclusion of these groups, even though they might seem to represent a diversion from Chronicles' main theme. As God's people pay proper attention to their status as a worshipping community, the distinction between the sacred and the secular disappears. All tasks, whether mundane or specialized, 'religious' or 'lay', have value in the eyes of God." (Borrow 1 Chronicles : an introduction and commentary)

Morgan - "Our method is not that of casting lots, but of seeking the direct guidance of the Spirit. But we need to remember that in our choice of men for office in the work of the Church of God, the things of privilege, which too often count in human affairs, must have no weight with us."

F B Meyer - But chiefly we are concerned with the temple of the heart. We surely need the doorkeeper there, for in the history of the inner life there is so much going and coming; such troops of thoughts pour into the shrine of the soul, and pour out. And often, in the crowd, disloyal and evil thoughts intrude, which, before we know it, introduce a sense of distance and alienation from God."

F B Meyer's comment reminds me of Proverbs 4:23 which charges us

Watch over your heart with all diligence, For from it flow the springs of life. (see commentary)

QUESTION - What was the practice of casting lots?

ANSWER - The practice of casting lots is mentioned seventy times in the Old Testament and seven times in the New Testament. In spite of the many references to casting lots in the Old Testament, nothing is known about the actual lots themselves. They could have been sticks of various lengths, flat stones like coins, or some kind of dice; but their exact nature is unknown. The closest modern practice to casting lots is likely flipping a coin.

The practice of casting lots occurs most often in connection with the division of the land under Joshua (Joshua chapters 14-21), a procedure that God instructed the Israelites on several times in the book of Numbers (Numbers 26:55; 33:54; 34:13; 36:2). God allowed the Israelites to cast lots in order to determine His will for a given situation (Joshua 18:6-10; 1 Chronicles 24:5,31). Various offices and functions in the temple were also determined by lot (1 Chronicles 24:5, 31; 25:8-9; 26:13-14). The sailors on Jonah's ship (Jonah 1:7) also cast lots to determine who had brought God's wrath upon their ship. The eleven apostles cast lots to determine who would replace Judas (Acts 1:26). Casting lots eventually became a game people played and made wagers on. This is seen in the Roman soldiers casting lots for Jesus' garments (Matthew 27:35).

The New Testament nowhere instructs Christians to use a method similar to casting lots to help with decision-making. Now that we have the completed Word of God, as well as the indwelling Holy Spirit to guide us, there is no reason to be using games of chance to make decisions. The Word, the Spirit, and prayer are sufficient for discerning God's will today—not casting lots, rolling dice, or flipping a coin. GotQuestions.org

G Campbell Morgan - As well the small as the great. 1 Chr 26.13

David seems to have neglected nothing in his arrangements concerning the Temple. Not only Levites, priests, and singers, but porters also, and such as had charge of all the stores, were set apart for the work. Nothing connected with the House of God was considered in any way as unimportant. Everything was most sacred. Those who were appointed to these offices were chosen from the sons of the highest in the national life, as well as from the sons of those less known. In the casting of lots, a principle was observed full of revealing light. The names were selected, not with reference to any privilege of position, due to wealth or official standing. "They cast lots as well the small as the great." Whatever grading of society into "small and great," "high or low," may be inevitable in the arrangement of affairs on the human level, it ceases to operate when the service of the House of God in any department is in question. In that service there must be equality and opportunity for all. The decision in this case was made by lot, these men believing, as Solomon expressed it in one of his proverbs, that "the lot is cast into the lap, but the whole disposing thereof is of Jehovah." That principle abides. Our method is not that of casting lots, but of seeking the direct guidance of the Spirit. But we need to remember that in our choice of men for office in the work of the Church of God, the things of privilege, which too often count in human affairs, must have no weight with us. GUARDING THE SOUTH GATE

For Obed-edom it fell to the south - NET = "Obed-Edom was assigned the south gate" (1Ch 26:15NET)

And to his sons went the storehouse - The KJV is a bit misleading for it renders the Hebrew word for "storehouse" as proper name = "and to his sons the house of Asuppim." (1Ch 26:15KJV) Storehouse (ha'asuppim) is the Hebrew root noun asoph which refers to that which is collected and stored and is used only 3 times, in 1Ch 26:17 (see below) and Neh 12:25 occurring in the plural meaning storehouse or storerooms. 1Ch 26:15 refers, literally, to "the house of the stores," that is, the storehouse near the south gate of the Temple. The Septuagint uses a word (esephin) that means "stores."

TSK note has a suggestion - Shallecheth: That is, ejection; probably the gate through which all the filth which from time to time might accumulate in the temple and its courts, was cast out.

John Trapp on Shallecheth - That is, Of casting out; this was the dung gate of the temple.

Matthew Poole - The gate Shallecheth; a gate of the court so called, as some think, because the ashes and filth of the temple were cast out on that side, which was the most convenient gate for that purpose, because that was a private quarter, the great ways to the temple lying on the other sides.

At the Parbar on the west there were four at the highway and two at the Parbar- Although NAS and KJV translate it "Parbar," most of the other versions render it as court or colonnade. The Hebrew noun parbār is defined as "annex" or "courtyard." In 1Ch 26:18 his structure was possibly an annex such as a colonnade.

PARBAR [EASTON] (1Ch 26:18), a place apparently connected with the temple, probably a "suburb" (q.v.), as the word is rendered in 2 Kings 23:11; a space between the temple wall and the wall of the court; an open portico into which the chambers of the official persons opened (1 Chr. 26:18).

PARBAR [SMITH] (open apartment), a word occurring in Hebrew and Authorized Version only in (1Ch 26:18) It would seem that Parbar was some place on the west side of the temple enclosure, probably the suburb mentioned by Josephus as lying in the deep valley which separated the west wall of the temple from the city opposite it.

PARBAR [ISBE] - par'-bar (parbar (1Ch 26:18), and parwarim, translated "precincts" (the King James Version "suburbs" in 2 Ki 23:11); Septuagint pharoureim): In 1Ch 26:18 reference is made to the position of the gatekeepers, "for Parbar westward, four at the causeway, and two at Parbar." The word is supposed to be of Persian origin, connected with Parwar, meaning "possessing light," and hence, the meaning has been suggested of "colonnade" or "portico," some place open to the light. In the plural form (2Ki 23:11) the situation of the house of "Nathan-melech" is described, and the translation, "in the colonnades," should, if the above origin is accepted, be more correct than English Versions of the Bible. It is difficult to understand the occurrence of a Persian word at this time, and it has been suggested (EB, col 3585) that the word is a description of the office of Nathan-melech, ba-parwarim being a misreading for ba-peradhim, meaning "who was over the mules."

The Levites, their relatives, had charge of the treasures of the house of God and of the treasures of the dedicated gifts.

Warren Wiersbe - Keep in mind that the Jewish people brought tithes and offerings to the temple as a part of their worship, and all these commodities had to be stored, inventoried, and protected. Most of all, the temple treasury contained valuables dedicated to the Lord, as well as material needed for the service of the Lord (see 1 Chron. 9:27-34). It was important that the spices, flour, and other items be kept from contamination. How unfortunate it is when that which defiles gets into the house of the Lord. As we review these chapters and their many names, we are struck with the fact that God uses people to accomplish His work, people with different talents and different ministries. SHEBUEL OVER TREASURES

Shebuel the son of Gershon, the son of Moses, was officer over the treasures - "Shebuel the son of Gershon (1Ch 23:16; 24:20). He had been chief treasure-officer under his grandfather, Moses. But Shelomith (1Ch 26:25) the descendant of Gershon's brother Eliezer, held the position under David (1Ch 26:26). (Wycliffe Bible Commentary borrow)

Shebuel means "captive of God and was one of the descendants of Gershon, who was "ruler over the treasures," that is, the one who had charge of the temple treasures in the time of David (1 Chr. 23:16). In 1 Ch 24:20 he is called "Shubael," which is probably the original form of the name. Although the descendants of Moses had ministered before a heathen image in the sanctuary at Dan (cf. Jdg. 18:29-31), they are seen here in a restored and favorable position among the people of God.

THOUGHT- Is not the story of Shebuel a gracious, wonderful practical application of God's judgment against iniquity set next to His heart to restore those who love Him (Ex. 20:5, 6; 34:6, 7; Nu 14:18; Deut. 5:9, 10).

PORTION OF SPOIL FOR TEMPLE REPAIR

They dedicated part of the spoil won in battles to repair the house of the LORD

Life Application Study Bible \(borrow\) - War plunder rightfully belonged to the victorious army. These soldiers, however, gave their portion of all the plunder to the house of the Lord to express their dedication to God. Like these commanders, we should think of what we can give, rather than what we are obligated to give. Is your giving a matter of rejoicing rather than duty? Give as a response of joy and love for God.

Streams in the Desert -

"Out of the spoils won in battle did they dedicate to maintain the house of the Lord." (1Ch 26:27)

PHYSICAL force is stored in the bowels of the earth, in the coal mines, which came from the fiery heat that burned up great forests in ancient ages; and so spiritual force is stored in the depths of our being, through the very pain which we cannot understand.

Some day we shall find that the spoils we have won from our trials were just preparing us to become true "Great Hearts" in the Pilgrim's Progress, and to lead our fellow pilgrims triumphantly through trial to the city of the King.

But let us never forget that the source of helping other people must be victorious suffering. The whining, murmuring pang never does anybody any good.

Paul did not carry a cemetery with him, but a chorus of victorious praise; and the harder the trial, the more he trusted and rejoiced, shouting from the very altar of sacrifice. He said, "Yea, and if I be offered upon the service and sacrifice of your faith, I joy and rejoice with you all." Lord, help me this day to draw strength from all that comes to me!—Days of Heaven upon Earth.

"He placed me in a little cage,

Away from gardens fair;
But I must sing the sweetest songs
Because He placed me there.
Not beat my wings against the cage,
If it's my Maker's will,
But raise my voice to heaven's gate
And sing the louder still!"

ORGANIZATION OF OFFICERS & JUDGES

As for the Izharites, Chenaniah and his sons were assigned to outside duties for Israel, as officers and judges- The Levites would be enforcers of God's law. Legal and administrative functions for Levites were established in Mosaic legislation (Deut. 17:8-13).

Wycliffe Bible Commentary \(borrow\) on officers and judges - Moses had first issued the natural directive that the Levites, who taught the word of God (Dt 33:10), should be entrusted with its interpretation in judgment (Dt 17:9; cf. 2 Chr 19:8, 11; Neh 11:15).

J Vernon McGee - The Levites were to be the judges, you see. They also were to act in official capacities in many ways. It was God's original purpose that Israel be a theocracy with Him ruling, and with the tabernacle in the center of the community, and with the priesthood getting the decisions from God Himself. This changed because of the failure of the Levites. So God raised up judges, and the people demanded a king. This is the reason David is now on the throne. Although Israel is now a monarchy, David is putting great emphasis upon bringing it back under God's control.

OVERSEERS OF 2.5 TRIBES WEST OF THE JORDAN

and his relatives, capable men (chayil; Lxx - dunatos - powerful, strong, able) , were 2,700 in number, heads of fathers' households. And King David made them overseers of the Reubenites, the Gadites and the half-tribe of the Manassites concerning all the affairs of God and of the king - These 2.5 tribes were west of the Jordan River.

Warren Wiersbe on all the affairs of God - these officers were also responsible to keep these tribes involved in "every matter pertaining to God" (1Ch 26:32NIV), that is, the all-important religious events of the nation. Separated from the other tribes, the trans-Jordanic Israelites might easily grow careless about observing the annual feasts or even the weekly Sabbaths. This explains why these officers are listed among the temple workers. (Borrow Be restored : trusting God to see us through : OT commentary. 2 Samuel & 1 Chronicles)

TSK note - There were more Levites employed as judges with the two tribes and half on the other side (WEST) of the Jordan River, than with all the rest of the tribes. There were 2700, whereas on the west side of Jordan there were only 17000. Either those remote tribes were not so well furnished as the rest with judges of their own, or because they lay farthest from Jerusalem, on the borders of the neighbouring nations, and were thus much in danger of being infected with idolatry, they most needed the help of Levites to prevent their running into the abominations of the idolaters.
