Legend: B.C. dates at top of timeline are approximate. Note that 931BC marks the division of the Kingdom into Southern Tribes (Judah and Benjamin) and Ten Northern Tribes. To avoid confusion be aware that after the division of the Kingdom in 931BC, the Southern Kingdom is most often designated in Scripture as "Judah" and the Northern Kingdom as "Israel." Finally, note that 1Chronicles 1-9 is not identified on the timeline because these chapters are records of genealogy.

Gary Inrig - As the Book of 1 Kings begins, we are at a critical moment in the history of the united monarchy. David is the nation's second king, and there had never been a smooth transition of power from one generation to another. Israel's external enemies had been brought under control by the military genius of David. But two dangers remained. One was internal division over David's successor. Who would take his place? The other was more subtle but far more significant. What would happen in the heart of the king who followed David? That is why the central passage in the first two chapters of 1 Kings also is the key to the future of the nation. (See Holman Old Testament Commentary - 1 & 2 Kings)

Now King David was old, advanced (KJV - Stricken - "run down") in age - The victories over the lion, bear, giants, and armies are all memories now. The once robust warrior is feeble and weak. David ruled as king for forty years (1011–971 B.C.). For the first years he was king over Judah alone, reigning from Hebron. Then, from 1004, he ruled over the united nation from Jerusalem. David was probably about 69 or 70 yo. He was thirty years old when he began to reign, reigned forty, and died in his seventieth year; and the transactions mentioned here supposedly transpired about a year before his death. Sixty-nine was not an advanced age (see Moses' words on age Ps 90:10+ even though he lived to 120 years), but he had been exhausted by various fights (wars), fatigues and family afflictions, so that he was in effect older in constitution than in years.

This verse sets the stage for the transition of leadership in Israel as King David approaches the end of his life. It highlights his frailty and the urgency of determining his successor. Despite his former strength and vitality, David is now physically weak, symbolizing the inevitable decline of human power and the necessity of divine guidance in leadership transitions.

and they covered him with clothes, but he could not keep warm - Hey, I understand this as I am 78 and get cold when no one else feels cold (and on top of that I get bad Raynaud's phenomenon and cannot even type - this is what my fingers look like!) But praise God for the invention of heating blankets so I do not have to seek a young virgin to stay warm (my wife would not approve)! What is crazy about David's personal problem is the fact that it would soon lead to national problems and ultimately to the death of one of his very own sons (stay tuned as the drama unfolds in 1 Kings 1-2).

Guzik - David was about 70 at this time. He seems even older than his years; but for David, it wasn't just the years – it was the mileage. He seemed to live the lives of four or five men in his lifetime. (ED: I THINK THAT IS AN ACCURATE ASSESSMENT AS I AM 79 AND ALTHOUGH I GET COLD EASILY, I EXERCISE REGULARLY, SWIMMING 5 DAYS EACH WEEK).

Matthew Henry Concise - Verses 1-4. We have David sinking under infirmities. He was chastised for his recent sins, and felt the effects of his former toils and hardships.

Rod Mattoon (Treasures From the Scriptures) - Stress can sponge the life out of a person. In David's case, much of his stress came from his sin and disobedience to the Lord. The same thing can happen to us if we live a carnal life. Sin creates stress.

Psalms 107:17—Fools because of their transgression, and because of their iniquities, are afflicted.

Proverbs 13:15—Good understanding giveth favor: but the way of transgressors is hard.

Romans 2:9—Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile;

God wants us to have His rest and peace in our life. This rest comes from being broken by the Lord and yielded to Him. In Montana, cowboys break a wild horse by putting a saddle on the horse and leaving it on for a month. The horse gets use to the saddle. The cowboy is patient with this horse and speaks in a gentle tone to the steed. The next step is the placing of the bit in the mouth. After two months, the cowboy mounts the horse. The principals of this story are found in Matthew 11:28-30. (Mattoon's Treasures – Treasures from 1 Kings.)

Gary Inrig has some interesting insights on David - David is the most dominant figure in 1 and 2 Kings. Although he was alive only in 1 Kings 1–2, his shadow lies over both books, where he is mentioned by name ninety-five times • God's covenant with David, recorded in 2 Samuel 7, which promised David a lasting dynasty, was the enduring basis of the nation's hope (1 Kgs. 2:33, 45; 5:5; 8:15, 19, 24–26; 9:5; 11:12–13, 32–38; 15:4; 2 Kgs. 8:19; 19:34; 20:6; 21:7) • David and his obedience to the Lord is the standard by which the succeeding kings of Judah are measured • David was the father of more than nineteen sons (see 1 Chr. 3:1–10). By the time we reach 1 Kings 1:1, the three oldest sons (Amnon, Chileab, and Absalom) have died, and Adonijah is the oldest surviving son. David's family relations have long been chaotic. (See Holman Old Testament Commentary - 1 & 2 Kings)

Here are a few takeaways -

- Human Frailty: Even the strongest leaders will eventually face physical weakness, emphasizing the temporality of human life.
 - The Need for Succession Planning: Leadership transitions must be guided by wisdom and foresight to ensure stability.
 - God's Sovereignty in Leadership: As David's era ends, God's plan for the next leader becomes the focal point, reminding readers that God orchestrates leadership according to His will.
 - A Reminder of Mortality: David's condition serves as a reflection on human mortality and the importance of preparing for what comes after.
 - Symbol of Spiritual Decline: David's physical decline might also serve as a parallel for the challenges Israel faces when leaders grow distant from God's guidance.

You know you are getting older when...

- Everything hurts, and what doesn't hurt, doesn't work.
- The gleam in your eyes is from the sun hitting your bifocals.
- You finally reach the top of the ladder and it is leaning against the wrong wall.
- You look forward to a dull evening.
- You sit in a rocking chair and can't get it going.
- Your knees buckle and your belt won't.
- You sink your teeth into a steak and they stay there.

Ah, the adventures of getting old! As we open the curtain on the book of 1 Kings, we find David in the Winter Years of Life. The shadows of the grave are getting closer. David is getting older. Notice verse one. (Mattoon's Treasures – Treasures from 1 Kings)

DAVID'S UNIQUE WAY OF STAYING WARM!

So - For this reason. Therefore. Term of conclusion. What is the conclusion and why did they reach this unusual conclusion?

His servants said to him, "Let them seek a young virgin for my lord the king, and let her attend the king and become his nurse ("caregiver"; Lxx - thalpo = tenderly care for, keep warm); and let her lie in your bosom, that my lord the king may keep warm - This young virgin was not just David's heating blanket, but was to attend and nurse David. Ancient historians record that this was kind of therapy was practiced into the Middle Ages.

Utley - The practice of a young person providing warmth to an old person was known (It was proper because it was a recognized medical treatment in the ancient world.). - Galen (AD 130-200), Method of Medicine 8.7, Josephus, Antiq. 7.14.3. (AD 27-ca 100)

Rod Mattoon - A medical solution for chills in David's day was to use the body heat of another to keep the person warm. David's servants conduct a Miss Israel contest and Abishag was picked. She was an incredibly beautiful, young woman and became a part of David's harem, yet, he did not have sexual relations with her. She cherished and cared for the king and kept him warm. (Mattoon's Treasures – Treasures from 1 Kings.)

Josephus, Antiq. 7.14.3 - 3. David was now in years, and his body by length of time was become cold, and benumb'd: insomuch that he could get no heat by covering himself with many cloths. And when the physicians came together (NOTE HE CALLS THE SERVANT IN VERSE 2 "PHYSICIANS!"), they agreed to this advice, that a beautiful virgin, chosen out of the whole country, should sleep by the King's side; and that this damsel would communicate heat to him, and be a remedy against his numbness. Now there was found in the city one woman, of a superior beauty to all other women: her name was Abishag: who sleeping with the King, did no more than communicate warmth to him; for he was so old that he could not know her, as a husband knows his wife. But of this woman we shall speak more presently.

Virgin (01330) bethulah is a feminine noun meaning virgin, a mature young woman that has never had sexual intercourse, and under the authority and protection of the father (translated as such 49x and once as maiden in the NAS). Judges 21:12 describes "400 young virgins who had not known a man by lying with him." So while the meaning of bethulah is unquestionably a virgin, that is not always the case for in Joel 1:8 we read "Wail like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the bridegroom of her youth," which suggests the bethulah is mourning for her husband. Bethulah also refers to cities or countries that are personified as females (Isa. 37:22; 47:1; Jer. 18:13; 31:4, 21; Amos 5:2). Swanson adds that bethulah also means "young women, i.e., a class of young female, though the class may be virgins, the focus is on the youth group (Dt 32:25; Ps 148:12; Jer 31:13; Am 8:13)." Swanson adds that a third meaning of bethulah is "dear one, one cared for, loved one, formally, virgin daughter, a young woman who is loved by the father, with the associated meaning of being pure, innocent, and under the protection and care of the father (2Ki 19:21; Isa 23:12; 37:22, 22; 47:1, 1; Jer 46:11; La 1:15; 2:10, 13)." The first use in Ge 24:16 describes "a virgin, and no man had had relations with her." The Lxx translates bethulah with the Greek noun parthenos which generally refers to a young woman of marriageable age with a focus on her virginity.

ABISHAG A BEAUTIFUL VIRGIN TO WARM DAVID

So - For this reason. What reason? What had the servants just concluded?

They searched for a beautiful girl throughout all the territory of Israel, and found Abishag the Shunammite, and brought her to the king - There was not electricity and thus no heating blankets. I am surprised there were no "comforters" for the king other than a human comforter. Abishag would comfort David but be the "Achilles' heel" for Adonijah.

Nowhere does the Bible approve of David's state of affairs—just the opposite!

--Gotquestions

Guzik has an very interesting observation - It was proper because David almost certainly made this young woman his concubine. While it was unwise for David to take more than one wife, it was not at that time illegal or specifically prohibited by God. Later, Adonijah would condemn himself to death by asking for Abishag as a wife. His request would only be so outrageous if Abishag had belonged to David as a concubine (but see Gotquestions commentary below).

THOUGHT - Over time, Israel's kings (like David and Solomon) took many concubines, often as part of political alliances, which was later criticized by prophets as a deviation from God's ideal for marriage. Famous Biblical Examples included Hagar, Abraham's concubine and the mother of Ishmael (Genesis 16:1-16+), Rizpah, A concubine of Saul who fiercely protected her sons (2 Samuel 21:10-11+), Abishag. though she was more of a caretaker to King David, her status was likened to that of a concubine (1 Kings 1:3-4). The Bible reflects cultural practices of its time but also highlights the challenges and conflicts that arose from these arrangements, such as jealousy and strife between wives and concubines (e.g., Sarah and Hagar in Genesis 21:1-34+). Concubinage in ancient Israel reflected the social and economic realities of a patriarchal society but as alluded to above often led to family conflicts and moral challenges. And even in the case of David's concubine Abishag, Adonijah's desire to have her after David's death, ultimately led to Adonijah's death (that's family conflict to the max!) While concubinage was culturally accepted, it was never God's ideal for marriage, which is always to be one man and one woman in a covenant relationship for one life (Genesis 2:24+).

QUESTION - Who was Abishag in the Bible? | GotQuestions.org

ANSWER - Abishag was a Shunammite woman whose account can be found in 1 Kings 1 and 2. She was connected to King David in a very interesting manner.

As David advanced in years, his health declined. Eventually, whether through declining faculties or an illness, he was unable to keep warm, even when fully clothed. It seems this ailment was a particular problem during the night, so David's servants devised a plan to keep him warm. They presented their idea to David: "Let us look for a young virgin to serve the king and take care of him. She can lie beside him so that our lord the king may keep warm" (1 Kings 1:2). King David agreed, and, in searching for an exceptionally beautiful woman, they found Abishag.

Abishag, who was a "very beautiful" virgin (1 Kings 1:4), was brought to live at the palace. There she saw to King David's needs and warmed him with her body at night. The Bible states there was no sexual relationship between the two of them; it was a matter of a caregiver attending her charge (1 Kings 1:4), although it was assumed that Abishag would become a de facto member of David's harem—a concubine or secondary wife.

Abishag's story continues after David's death. David's son Solomon had been chosen to take the throne, but another of David's sons, Adonijah, styled himself as king instead (1 Kings 1:5). He was older than Solomon and had plenty of followers, so Adonijah posed a real threat to Solomon's succession. Even as Adonijah was celebrating his coronation as king, David had Solomon anointed king at Bathsheba's and Nathan's request. Hearing the news of his brother's installation as king, Adonijah was afraid and appealed to Solomon that he be allowed to live in spite of his designs on the throne. Solomon granted him mercy (1 Kings 1:5-53). Unfortunately, Adonijah did not stop scheming for long, and he had his eye on Abishag.

When David passed away and Solomon began his rule, Adonijah approached Bathsheba and requested that she go before King Solomon and ask him to give him Abishag as a wife (1 Kings 2:13–17). She relayed the request, but Solomon saw through Adonijah's plot. To marry a former king's wife was to lay claim to the throne, and, since Abishag was considered one of David's concubines (even though they had never been intimate), Adonijah's request to marry her was full of intrigue. In short, Adonijah was renewing his bid for Solomon's throne. This was the last straw, and Solomon ordered that Adonijah be executed immediately (verses 19–25).

QUESTION - Why did David need Abishag to keep him warm when he had wives?

ANSWER - Many ancient customs are strange to modern readers of the Bible, especially those of us who have never lived in cultures embracing polygamy or absolute monarchy. The incident of Abishag sleeping—chastely—in David's bed is definitely a puzzling story. We'll start with the Scripture passage in which Abishag is brought to David:

“When King David was very old, he could not keep warm even when they put covers over him. So his attendants said to him, ‘Let us look for a young virgin to serve the king and take care of him. She can lie beside him so that our lord the king may keep warm.’ Then they searched throughout Israel for a beautiful young woman and found Abishag, a Shunammite, and brought her to the king. The woman was very beautiful; she took care of the king and waited on him, but the king had no sexual relations with her” (1 Kings 1:1–4).

Even with extra blankets, the elderly King David could not generate enough body heat on his own to maintain a healthy temperature. A lifetime that had included being a fugitive, living in caves, being exposed to the elements, and fighting hard-fought battles had finally taken its toll on his aging body (see 1 Samuel 20:1; 22:1; 2 Samuel 21:17). David's condition, called hypothermia, is not unusual in older people: toward the end of his long life, former President Ronald Reagan requested that his favorite electric blanket be returned from the ranch he had sold. Of course, no technology in ancient Israel would provide a continual source of warmth through the cool Judean nights. Only a human body had the capacity to do that.

David had at least four wives whose names we know—Ahinoam, Abigail (2 Samuel 2:2), Eglah (2 Samuel 3:5), and Bathsheba (2 Samuel 11:27)—and possibly others such as Absalom's mother Maakah. This doesn't count the concubines he had (2 Samuel 5:13). The natural question is, with plenty of female intimates to keep David warm, why did his attendants seek out a beautiful virgin stranger for the job? The following are several issues regarding Abishag's “job description”:

- 1. Why a woman? A boy or young man would not have been considered for the job, in order to prevent even the appearance of David having a homosexual relationship (Leviticus 18:22; 20:13).
- 2. Why a young virgin? This quality ensured that whoever was chosen for the job wouldn't be taken away from a jealous fiancé or husband, nor would she be a widow familiar with the sexual practices of the marriage bed. We don't know what hopes and dreams Abishag had for her own life, but in the ancient world where uncertainty and struggle were lifelong challenges for most people, the honor of being brought into the king's household would mean a lifetime of well-being and security for her and her family (1 Kings 4:27).
- 3. Why beautiful? Human nature never changes. Then as now, people prized physical beauty (Genesis 29:17; Deuteronomy 21:11; 1 Samuel 9:2; 2 Samuel 14:25; Esther 2:2–4). Kings had the privilege and power to surround themselves with beauty, and David's servants likely thought to win his favor by bringing a beautiful woman into his palace.
- 4. Why not a queen or wife? A queen could not be ordered by mere servants to stay and keep the king warm through the night; she was above following the commands of those of lesser rank. To presume to direct the queen would be an affront to her royal dignity, and it would also reflect badly on the king.
- 5. Why not a concubine? Though concubines had a lesser status than wives, they, too, possessed a certain rank and dignity. Absalom demonstrated this fact when, as part of his attempted coup, he slept with his father's concubines (2 Samuel 16:21–22). Moreover, the personal dynamics within harems were infamous for the jealousy and infighting they engendered. To select one wife or concubine over another would be a mark of favoritism that would likely incite resentment and squabbling in the household.

Abishag was neither a wife nor a concubine (ED: CONTRA GUZIK'S COMMENT ABOVE. CLEARLY THIS POINT IS DEBATABLE AND PERHAPS A MATTER OF SEMANTICS!), but her position in the king's household gave her such high prestige that David's son Adonijah asked to marry her after the king's death, but Solomon recognized this as an attempt by Adonijah to make himself king, and he had his brother executed (1 Kings 2:21–25).

Nowhere does the Bible approve of David's state of affairs—just the opposite! God had warned Israel through Moses that any future king “must not take many wives” (Deuteronomy 17:17). Scripture does not say that Abishag's presence in David's bed was a good thing, nor does it present David as a good father. His many children by multiple mothers were a cause of great trouble for him and the whole kingdom (2 Samuel 13; 2 Samuel 15; 1 Kings 12:23–25). His own son and successor, Solomon, ignoring God's clear warning, took his father's excesses to a shocking extreme with 700 wives and 300 concubines who led him astray and turned his heart after other gods (1 Kings 11:2–4). The kingdom itself was divided and lost by Solomon's son shortly after his coronation, barely one generation after the glory of King David (1 Kings 12).

1 Kings 1:4 The girl was very beautiful; and she became the king's nurse and served him, but the king did not cohabit with her.

BEAUTIFUL GIRL PLATONIC

The girl was very beautiful; and she became the king's nurse and served him, but the king did not cohabit with her- NET = " but the king was not intimate with her." Literally this reads "did not know her" where the verb yada (Lxx - ginosko - know experientially, intimately) meaning "to know" is used as a euphemism for sexual relations. In Ge 4:1+ "the man had relations (yada) with his wife Eve and she conceived." It is interesting that the first time "very beautiful" was used in the life of David was in description of Bathsheba with whom he did unfortunately cohabit! (2Sa 11:2, 3-5+). Why David did not cohabit is not necessarily a reflection of his purity but his fragility as an elderly man!

Now - This is used, especially in conversation, to draw attention to a particular statement or point in a narrative. Now Adonijah sought to fill the political vacuum created by David's demise.

Adonijah the son of Haggith exalted himself, saying, "I will be king" (literally "will reign") - And he followed through on his desire (1Ki 1:11). It is always a dangerous thing to exalt self, for as Jesus repeated "everyone who exalts himself will be humbled" (Lk 14:11+, Lk 18:14+) Haggith was the fifth wife of David and the mother of his fourth son, Adonijah who was born in Hebron David's capital at the time (2Sa 3:4-5+, 2Ch 3:2). Adonijah was David's oldest living son (2Sa 3:2-4; 2Sa 13:28, 2Sa 18:14) and so in theory was next in line to the throne, but as discussed below that was not God's will or David's desire.

Adonijah was David's fourth son (2Sa 3:4) and, after the deaths of Amnon, Absalom, and presumably Chileab (child with Abigail), would have expected to be next in line for the throne. However, Adonijah knew that David was determined to make Solomon king and that Solomon was God's choice to rule (1Ki 2:15) and thus he tried to seize the throne. Sin is a perversion of God's will and this was willful sin because Adonijah knew God's will! Furthermore, the wages of sin are death, a price Adonijah would soon pay for his sin! Do not be deceived. God is not mocked and if we sow to the flesh we are guaranteed to reap corruption (Gal 6:7-8+). Adonijah felt "entitled" and that he should succeed his father, even though both David and God Himself had chosen Solomon, the son of David's favorite wife, Bathsheba, as the next king (1Ch 22:9,10; 1Ki 1:13).

Where jealousy and selfish ambition exist, there is disorder and every evil thing.

The events in this section are an apt illustration of the teaching by James 3:13-18+

Who among you is wise and understanding? Let him show by his good behavior his deeds in the gentleness of wisdom. 14 But if you have bitter jealousy and selfish ambition in your heart, do not be arrogant and so lie against the truth. 15 This wisdom is not that which comes down from above, but is earthly, natural, demonic. 16 For where jealousy and selfish ambition exist, there is disorder and every evil thing. 17 But the wisdom from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, reasonable, full of mercy and good fruits, unwavering, without hypocrisy. 18 And the seed whose fruit is righteousness is sown in peace by those who make peace.

So - For this reason. What reason? What was his concluding action?

He prepared for himself chariots and horsemen with fifty men to run before him- This should "ring a bell" if you have been reading about David's life. Absalom had manifested this same rebellious spirit when he "provided for himself a chariot and horses and fifty men as runners before him." (2Sa 15:1+) This parallel between Absalom and Adonijah is played out in that both sought to be king against the will of God and both lost their lives.

Wiseman on prepared for himself chariots and horsemen - "In effect this was a personal military force designed to anticipate Solomon's claim by a coup d'etat. (Out) runners were part of a close royal bodyguard."

IVP Background Commentary - It was common practice for persons of high political status to display their authority by riding in a chariot, accompanied by an entourage of runners

Matthew Henry Concise - Verses 5-10. Indulgent parents are often chastised with disobedient children, who are anxious to possess their estates. No worldly wisdom, nor experience, nor sacredness of character, can insure the continuance in any former course of those who remain under the power of self-love. But we may well wonder by what arts Joab and Abiathar could be drawn aside.

Haggith was one of David's wives during his time in Hebron, where several of his children were born. According to 2Sa 3:4; 1 Ki 1:5,11; 2:13; 1Ch 3:2 she was the fifth wife of David and the mother of his fourth son, Adonijah. The latter was born in Hebron while David's capital was there (2Sa 3:4,5). Adonijah's status as one of David's older sons gave him a claim to the throne, especially after the deaths of Amnon (David's firstborn) and Absalom (his third son). Haggith is mentioned primarily in genealogical contexts, where her identity is tied to her son Adonijah. She is named five times in the Bible, always in connection with Adonijah. Adonijah's attempt to usurp the throne (1 Kings 1) may have reflected the influence of his mother, Haggith, although the Bible does not explicitly state her involvement. As a queen mother, Haggith may have hoped for greater prominence through her son's ascension but this is supposition. Haggith's legacy is tied to her son Adonijah's attempt to claim the throne. Adonijah's ambition and ultimate failure (1 Kings 1:5-53; 2:13-25) marked a significant turning point in Israel's history, leading to Solomon's solidification as David's chosen successor.

Adonijah exalts himself and toots his own horn saying, "I will be king!" As the shadow of death approaches David's bed, his home problems still plague him as another son seeks to take the throne. Adonijah follows the same path as Absalom. He is less deceitful than his brother.

Adonijah is motivated by pride. He is handsome and has a very high opinion of himself. His will is unchecked and rarely curbed (vs.6). He is a spoiled and undisciplined man.

Amnon, the firstborn son is dead. Absalom's command killed him. Chileab is believed to have died at an early age. Absalom was killed by Joab. Adonijah is next in line for the throne and assumes he will be king. This is why he exalts himself and toots his own horn. Adonijah has forgotten the God factor. He is not God's man and part of God's will and plan for the nation of Israel.

Rod Mattoon - The Folly of Exalting Yourself or Tooting Your Own Horn

When you toot your own horn and lift up yourself, you will eventually fall down and your glory will fade. When Ptolemy, outstanding astronomer and mathematician of the second century, decided to build the Pharos, he chose Sostratus to design the mammoth lighthouse which became later one of the Seven Wonders of the World. Ptolemy insisted that the lighthouse should bear his inscription as a personal memorial; however, Sostratus didn't think the king should get all the credit. He therefore put the title of Ptolemy on the front of the lighthouse in a thick plaster which would be eye catching at first, but later would be worn away by the elements of the weather. Secretly Sostratus cut his own name in the granite under the plaster. For decades the sea dashed against the plaster inscription and gradually eroded it. Though it lasted the lifetime of Ptolemy, it finally was obliterated, leaving the name "Sostratus" boldly and clearly exposed in the granite. Worldly fame often disappears before the relentless waves of time.

The Bible warns us about strutting our feathers like a peacock.

- Luke 14:11—For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.
- Proverbs 17:19—He loveth transgression that loveth strife: and he that exalteth his gate seeketh destruction.
- Proverbs 16:18—Pride goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall.

God's advice for us....

- 1 Corinthians 10:12—Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.
- Proverbs 30:32—If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thyself, or if thou hast thought evil, lay thine hand upon thy mouth. (Mattoon's Treasures – Treasures from 1 Kings.)

Josephus, Antiq. 7.14.4 - 4. Now the fourth son of David was a beautiful young man, and tall; born to him of Haggith his wife. He was named Adonijah, and was in his disposition like to Absalom; and exalted himself, as hoping to be King; and told his friends that he ought to take the government upon him. He also prepared many chariots, and horses, and fifty men to run before him. When his father saw this, he did not reprove him, nor restrain him from his purpose: nor did he go so far as to ask wherefore he did so? Now Adonijah had for his assistants Joab, the captain of the army; and Abiathar the High Priest. And the only persons that opposed him were Zadok the High Priest, and the Prophet Nathan, and Benaiah, who was Captain of the guards, and Shimei, David's friend: with all the other most mighty men. Now Adonijah had prepared a supper, out of the city, near the fountain that was in the King's paradise, and had invited all his brethren except Solomon; and had taken with him Joab, the Captain of the army, and Abiathar, and the rulers of the tribe of Judah; but had not invited to this feast neither Zadok the High Priest, nor Nathan the Prophet, nor Benaiah, the Captain of the guards, nor any of those of the contrary party. This matter was told by Nathan the Prophet to Bathsheba, Solomon's mother; that Adonijah was King; and that David knew nothing of it: and he advised her to save her self, and her son Solomon; and to go by her self to David, and say to him, that "He had indeed sworn that Solomon should reign after him; but that, in the mean time, Adonijah had already taken the Kingdom." He said, that he, the Prophet himself, would come after her, and, when she had spoken thus to the King, would confirm what she had said. Accordingly Bathsheba agreed with Nathan, and went in to the King, and worshipped him, and when she had desired leave to speak with him, she told him all things in the manner that Nathan had suggested to her; and related what a supper Adonijah had made, and who they were whom he had invited; Abiathar the High Priest, and Joab the General, and David's sons, excepting Solomon, and his intimate friends. She also said, that "All the people had their eyes upon him, to know whom he would choose for their King." She desired him also to consider, how, after his departure, Adonijah, if he were King, would slay her, and her son Solomon.

QUESTION - Who was Adonijah in the Bible?

ANSWER - Adonijah was the fourth son of King David. Adonijah's mother was Haggith, one of David's wives. Adonijah is best known for his failed attempts to usurp the throne of Israel after his father's death.

Adonijah was "a very handsome man" (1 Kings 1:6) with a flair for showmanship (1Ki 1:5), but he was also badly behaved. Scripture indicates that the reason for Adonijah's misbehavior was that King David had neglected his discipline: "His father had never rebuked him by asking, 'Why do you behave as you do?'" (1Ki 1:6). When David was old and on his deathbed, Adonijah—like his brother Absalom before him (2 Samuel 15)—gathered an army and put himself forward as king, regardless of the fact that David's chosen successor was Solomon. Some influential men supported Adonijah's move, including Joab, the captain of the army; and Abiathar the priest. But others opposed Adonijah's plans, including Nathan the prophet, Zadok the priest, and David's wife Bathsheba (1 Kings 1:8).

Adonijah assembled his followers and offered a great number of sacrifices as part of his coronation ceremony (1 Kings 1:9). Nathan heard of Adonijah's activity, and he approached Solomon's mother and David's wife, Bathsheba, encouraging her to go before the aged, ailing king and apprise him of the situation (1Ki 1:11–13). King David responded by ordering that Solomon be taken immediately to Gihon to be anointed by Nathan and Zadok as king. After Solomon was anointed, all the people rejoiced with trumpets, music, and shouts of praise so loud that "the ground shook with the sound" (1Ki 1:40).

As Adonijah's crowd was finishing their feast, they heard the trumpets sounding in Gihon, and Adonijah asked what was the meaning of the noise. A priest named Jonathan gave Adonijah the news of Solomon's anointing (1Ki 1:41-48). Adonijah's supporters quickly dispersed, and, fearing for his life, Adonijah fled to the temple and appealed for clemency by taking hold of the horns of the altar (1Ki 1:49-50). Solomon allowed Adonijah to come before him peaceably and promised him safety, as long as he was found worthy; however, Solomon warned, "If evil is found in him, he will die" (1Ki 1:52). Adonijah was then allowed to return home.

In spite of receiving mercy, Adonijah did not stop scheming. After King David's death, he approached Bathsheba and implored her to ask Solomon to give him the hand of David's former nurse, Abishag, in marriage (1Ki 2:13-17). This request showed that Adonijah still had designs on the throne, and Solomon was enraged. He ordered Adonijah to be executed, and the sentence was carried out that same day (1Ki 2:23-25). Solomon also dealt with Adonijah's allies, removing Abiathar from the priesthood and executing Joab. GotQuestions.org

Getting What We Want

Adonijah . . . put himself forward and said, "I will be king." 1 Kings 1:5

Today's Scripture & Insight: 1 Kings 1:5, 32–37

Aaron Burr anxiously awaited the result of the tie-breaking vote from the US House of Representatives. Deadlocked with Thomas Jefferson in the 1800 race for the presidency, Burr had reason to believe that the House would declare him the winner. However, he lost, and bitterness gnawed at his soul. Nurturing grievances against Alexander Hamilton for not supporting his candidacy, Burr killed Hamilton in a gun duel less than four years later. Outraged by the killing, his country turned its back on him, and Burr died a dour old man.

Political power plays are a tragic part of history. When King David was nearing death, his son Adonijah recruited David's commander and a leading priest to make him king (1 Kings 1:5–8). But David had chosen Solomon as king (v. 17). With the help of the prophet Nathan, the rebellion was put down (vv. 11–53). Despite his reprieve, Adonijah plotted a second time to steal the throne, and Solomon had him executed (2:13–25).

How human of us to want what's not rightfully ours! No matter how hard we pursue power, prestige, or possessions, it's never quite enough. We always want something more. How unlike Jesus, who "humbled himself by becoming obedient to death—even death on a cross"! (Philippians 2:8).

Power Struggle

The Most High God rules in the kingdom of men, and appoints over it whomever He chooses. —Daniel 5:21

Today's Scripture: 1 Kings 1:15-31

The president of a company in Michigan had suffered a minor stroke, and he was not spending much time at the office. He didn't know that one of his sons, with the help of two vice presidents, was scheming to take over the firm. He learned of their plot just in time, though, and was able to retain control.

In some parts of the world, power struggles result in assassinations, bloody coups, or civil wars. We see power struggles in politics all the time. They also occur in neighborhoods, families, and even in churches.

Adonijah made a power move to grab the throne of Israel (1 Ki. 1:5-10). But God had other plans. Bathsheba (David's wife) and Nathan the prophet were able to stop the takeover (vv.11-31), and God's appointed leader, Solomon, soon became king (vv.38-40; 2:12).

We need to remember that God rules over the kingdoms of earth (Dan. 5:21). He raises up leaders and brings them down, whether in politics or in the church. Sometimes it's necessary to replace an ineffective leader, but we must pursue that option only after careful thought and earnest prayer for God's direction. We should never become part of a move that serves the ambition of some power-hungry person instead of honoring the Lord who rules over all. By: David C. Egner (Our Daily Bread, Copyright RBC Ministries, Grand Rapids, MI. — Reprinted by permission. All rights reserved)

The Most High still rules over kingdoms of men,
He gives the control to whomever He will;
All people must bow to His sovereign plan,
And know that His purposes He will fulfill.

ANOTHER FRUIT OF FAILURE TO DISCIPLINE

His father had never crossed him at any time by asking, "Why have you done so?" - NET - "his father had never corrected him by saying, "Why do you do such things?" Why this detail? It explains why he would dare seek to make himself king against his father's wishes. His father had not kept anything from him before, so why would he keep the monarchy from him now? David had essentially "inverted Pr 22:6 and had not trained up Adonijah in the way he should have gone, and now he was old and would not follow his father's will but his own! Much of what David suffered at the hands of his children was the consequence of his failure to be a good father by properly disciplining his children (Heb. 12:5-11). Note the same failures in Eli and Samuel (1 Sam. 3:13). David was a wonderful King but a poor father.

THOUGHT - To be sure David was a man after God's own heart (Acts 13:22+), but clearly not in every respect, for God is a loving Father Who disciplines His children that they might share His holiness (Heb 12:10+) and bring forth the peaceful fruit of a righteous life (Heb 12:11+). Do you as a father lovingly discipline your children?

Trapp - David was ever too fond a father, and he smarted for it."

And he was also a very handsome man - Saul and Absalom were also handsome (1Sa 9:2, 2Sa 14:25) and look where it got them!

and he was born after Absalom - In other words, since Absalom as the eldest but was now dead, Adonijah was in theory the next in line to be king.

Rod Mattoon - The Failure to Discipline Your Children Leads to Problems

When you fail to discipline your kids, you are showing your hatred for them. That sounds weird and is totally, politically incorrect, but this is what God says.

Proverbs 13:24—He that spareth his rod hateth his son: but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes.

Why does this show hate? Your kids will grow up expecting to get their own way and this is not going to happen. They will be selfish, irresponsible, wild, unhappy, frustrated, and have difficulty in getting along with other people. Their actions could lead to a broken marriage, difficulty in keeping a job, jail, or imprisonment.

Proverbs 29:15—The rod and reproof give wisdom: but a child left to himself bringeth his mother to shame.

Proverbs 29:17—Correct thy son, and he shall give thee rest; yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul.

When you spare the rod on your misbehaving or rebellious child, you bring it upon yourself eventually. David's neglect has brought the rod upon himself. (Mattoon's Treasures – Treasures from 1 Kings.)

CO-CONSPIRATORS WITH ADONIJAH, JOAB AND ABIATHAR

He had conferred with Joab the son of Zeruiah and with Abiathar the priest; and following Adonijah they helped him - To be sure there is wisdom in an abundance of counselors but not if they are not godly, wise counselors which clearly Joab and Abiathar were not (cf James 3:13-18+). They knew that David's (God's) choice to succeed him was Solomon, not Adonijah. How foolish they both were to go against God's choice and God's will. It is always a costly mistake to go against the will of God which is good, acceptable and perfect (Ro 12:2b+)! Joab was David's nephew, and commander of David's army (2Sa 2:13+) so this act by Joab was in a sense rebellion against the king. With David's favor turned against him (2Sa 19:13+), Joab found it easy to follow Adonijah. Abiathar also joined the conspiracy, apparently judging that Adonijah, as the logical successor to David, could muster sufficient strength to win the crown.

Maclaren - "Joab and Abiathar tarnished a life's devotion and broke sacred bonds, because they thought of themselves rather than of God's will."

Abiathar, was co-priest with Zadok under David, a descendant of Eli and the only survivor of the slaughter at Nob (1Sa 22:20). However because of his treachery in following Adonijah, Abiathar would be the end of the lineage of Eli in the priesthood, just as had been foretold to Eli because of his sins and sins of his sons as priests - see 1Sa 2:27-36+

Rod Mattoon - Notice Joab is still consistent, seeking his own self-interests. Decisions that are based upon the "Finger in the Air to See Where the Wind is Blowing" mentality will eventually get you into trouble. Joab was attracted to the false king. He is like the lost man who has a natural attraction to follow sinful ways. People who follow sinful living or Satan, instead of Christ, do so because they belong to Satan.

John 8:44—Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it.

Labeling something as Christian does not make it necessarily Christian, Christlike, or approved by the Lord. Christian Day at Bikini Beach does not make the event Christian. Many people who claim to be Christians are not, because they have never truly been born again. Churches are filled with religious people who are not born again. Any activity, entertainment, or relationship with a person that contradicts Bible teaching or principle is not God's will. God never leads us to contradict His Word! NEVER! Dating, marrying, or going into business partnerships with unsaved people contradicts God's Word and is not the will of God for the believer. In the years that I have been preaching, I have seen multitudes, who thought they knew more than God on this matter. They were greatly distressed, disappointed, and depressed because they did not obey God in this matter. Some have had to bear their disobedience for the rest of their lives.

QUESTION - Who was Joab in the Bible?

ANSWER - Joab was a son of Zeruiah, King David's sister (1 Chronicles 2:13–17) and was therefore one of David's nephews. Joab's brothers were two of David's brave warriors, Abishai and Asahel. Joab was positioned as commander of David's armies because of his victory over the Jebusites, resulting in the possession of the city of Jerusalem. It was through this victory that Jerusalem became "the city of David" (1 Chronicles 11:4–9).

Joab fought and won many battles for the king, but his personal lack of self-control was problematic. In a war against the forces of Ish-Bosheth, Joab's brother Asahel was killed by Abner, the commander of Ish-Bosheth's armies. Joab was furious and pursued Abner to kill him, but Abner escaped (2 Samuel 2:12–32). Later, after Abner swore allegiance to David, Joab's fuse blew, and his desire to avenge his brother's blood drove him to deceive and murder Abner (verses 26–27). This action deeply grieved David, but the king felt unable to bring justice against the mighty Joab (verse 39). Instead, David pronounced a curse over Joab and his future descendants: “May his blood fall on the head of Joab and on his whole family! May Joab’s family never be without someone who has a running sore or leprosy or who leans on a crutch or who falls by the sword or who lacks food” (verse 29).

As the commander of David’s armies, Joab was provided many victories by God, but Joab caused much grief to the king and to Israel. His anger and perhaps the power of his position drove him to poor decisions at times. In addition to his murder of Abner, Joab killed his own cousin, Amasa—and his betrayal was Judas-style, accompanied by a kiss: “Joab said to Amasa, ‘How are you, my brother?’ Then Joab took Amasa by the beard with his right hand to kiss him. Amasa was not on his guard against the dagger in Joab’s hand, and Joab plunged it into his belly, and his intestines spilled out on the ground. Without being stabbed again, Amasa died” (2 Samuel 20:9–10). Joab disobeyed King David’s command to spare Absalom’s life, himself striking Absalom with three javelins (2 Samuel 18:1-33). David mourned the death of his son Absalom, a response that was sternly reprimanded by Joab (2 Samuel 19:1–8). It was also Joab who, in accordance with David’s command, placed Uriah the Hittite at the front of the battle to be killed, so that David could feel justified in marrying Uriah’s widow (2 Samuel 11:1-27).

Joab, for all his faults, was obviously a capable man of war and valiant on the battlefield. And he ought to be given credit for his loyalty to David for almost four decades. Joab also counseled David when David sinfully desired to take a census; if David had heeded Joab’s advice, he could have spared his nation the plague that befell Israel (2 Samuel 24:1-25).

When David was on his deathbed, Joab conspired with Adonijah to install Adonijah as the next king, instead of Solomon (1 Kings 1). This action, plus Joab’s other rash decisions, vengeful murders, and inability to take certain important orders, finally drove David over the edge. David commanded Solomon to ensure Joab’s execution, an act that was carried out by Benaniah as Joab was clinging to the horns of the altar in hopes of finding clemency (1 Kings 2:5–6, 28–34). GotQuestions.org

QUESTION - Who was Abiathar in the Bible? | GotQuestions.org

ANSWER - Along with Zadok, Abiathar served as one of the chief priests during David’s reign as king. Abiathar’s name means “father of excellence” or “father of abundance” in Hebrew.

Abiathar was the son of Ahimelech, who served as a priest at Nob (1 Samuel 21:1; Mark 2:26) until he and the other priests were murdered by King Saul (1 Samuel 21:1–19). Being the only son of Ahimelech to escape the massacre at Nob, Abiathar fled to David and was promised protection by the future king (1 Samuel 21:20–23).

Because Abiathar served David and acted as priest for all of David’s men in hiding, he was made high priest along with Zadok once David began his reign as king (1 Chronicles 15:11). This was a natural role for him to take on, as he had kept the ephod and administered the Urim and Thummin when David sought direction from the Lord (1 Samuel 23:6; 30:7).

When Absalom rebelled against his father and attempted to usurp the throne, Abiathar remained loyal to David. Abiathar was among those who fled the capital city with David (2 Samuel 15:24). Zadok and the Levites carried the ark of the covenant, “and Abiathar offered sacrifices until all the people had finished leaving the city” (2 Samuel 15:24). Although David admired the loyalty and faithfulness of the priests, he ordered them to return to the city with the ark. This proved helpful because they were then able to send word to David about Absalom’s plans (2 Samuel 15:27–29; 17:15–16). David was restored to his throne and Abiathar to his priestly office.

Things changed as David’s son Solomon took the throne. Abiathar was not loyal to the new king. Adonijah, another one of David’s sons, put himself forward as king with the help of Joab (one of David’s nephews) and Abiathar (1 Kings 1:5, 7). Once the threat from Adonijah was neutralized, King Solomon dealt with the conspirators. One of Solomon’s actions was to remove Abiathar from the priestly office. This fulfilled the Lord’s word of judgment over Eli and his descendants, which impacted Abiathar since he was related to Eli (1 Samuel 3:12–14; 1 Kings 2:27). It was only because of the priest’s loyal service to David that Solomon did not kill him. Solomon told Abiathar, “Go back to your fields in Anathoth. You deserve to die, but I will not put you to death now, because you carried the ark of the Sovereign LORD before my father David and shared all my father’s hardships” (1 Kings 2:26). Zadok replaced Abiathar as priest under Solomon (1 Kings 2:35).

Abiathar lived most of his life in faithful service to the Lord, but he did not finish well. Instead of siding with the rightful king of Israel (2 Samuel 7:12; 1 Kings 1:17), Abiathar assisted one of David’s rebellious sons who desired to rule. He allowed earthly matters to become his focus, which cost him the priestly office. Like Abiathar, we can easily get caught up in worldly schemes and lose sight of God’s plan. Rather than seeking our own way or chasing what seems politically expedient, we should seek to faithfully follow God. Then, when our time on earth is done, we can state with the apostle Paul, “I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, and I have remained faithful” (2 Timothy 4:7, NLT).

CONTRASTING BEHAVIOR THOSE LOYAL TO DAVID

But - This term of contrast introduces a dramatic contrast in the players in this unfolding drama. This 'but' is a little hinge word that in context open will open a huge door to prepare the way for God's chosen successor of David. Keep your eyes peeled for this little hinge word but as it often opens "big doors" of understanding. (See discussion of importance of "but" in article HOW UNDERSTANDING ONE WORD CAN CHANGE THE WAY YOU READ THE BIBLE!)

Zadok the priest, Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, Nathan the prophet, Shimei, Rei, and the mighty men who belonged to David, were not with Adonijah - This Shimei is not the one mentioned in 2Sa 16:5-8 or in 1Ki 2:36-46 and no more is known about him. See diagram above showing Zadok and Abiathar, the two priests in 1 Kings 1-2. This is the only mention of Rei in Scripture so nothing else is known about him.

When Absalom revolted and David fled from Jerusalem, Zadok and all the Levites bearing the ark accompanied him.

Zadok - He is first mentioned in 2 Sa 8:17. His ancestry is given in 1 Chr. 6:4-6. He was son of Ahitub and one of the two chief priests in the time of David, Abiathar being the other. Zadok was of the house of Eleazar the son of Aaron, (1 Chronicles 24:3) and eleventh in descent from Aaron. (1 Chronicles 12:28) He joined David at Hebron after Saul's death, (1 Chronicles 12:28) and thenceforth his fidelity to David was inviolable. When Absalom revolted and David fled from Jerusalem, Zadok and all the Levites bearing the ark accompanied him. When Absalom was dead, Zadok and Abiathar were the persons who persuaded the elders of Judah to invite David to return. (2 Samuel 19:11) When Adonijah, in David's old age, set up for king, and had persuaded Joab, and Abiathar the priest, to join his party, Zadok was unmoved, and was employed by David to anoint Solomon to be king in his room. (1 Kings 1:34) For this fidelity he was rewarded by Solomon who "thrust out Abiathar from being priest unto the Lord," and "put in Zadok the priest" in his room. (1 Kings 2:27,35) From this time, however, we hear little of him. Zadok and Abiathar were of nearly equal dignity. (2 Samuel 15:35,36; 19:11) The duties of the office were divided, Zadok ministered before the tabernacle at Gibeon, (1 Chronicles 16:39) Abiathar had the care of the ark at Jerusalem, until he proved disloyal to Solomon

Benaiah, the son of Jehoiada of Kabzeel (compare Josh 15:21), was a man of "mighty deeds" and was more honorable than any of the mighty men of David except the three chiefs. Therefore David made him his chief counselor (2 Sam 23:23; compare 1 Ch 27:34 where the order of names seems to be reversed) and set him over the Cherethites (compare Carites, 2 Ki 11:4 ff and margin) and Pelethites and he was made the 3rd captain of the host and chief over the course of the 3rd month (1 Ch 27:5 f; 2 Sam 8:18; 20:23; 1 Ch 18:17; 2 Sam 23:20 ff; 11:22 ff). Being a true friend of David (compare 2 Sam 15:18) he did not take part in the usurpation of Adonijah (1 Ki 1:8,10,26), and was therefore with others chosen by the king to proclaim Solomon king over Israel (1 Ki 1:32 ff) and later by Solomon to execute Adonijah (1 Ki 2:25), Joab (1 Ki 2:29 ff), and Shimei (1 Ki 2:46). In recognition of his services Solomon appointed him over the host in Joab's place (1 Ki 2:35; 4:4).

QUESTION - Who was Zadok in the Bible?

ANSWER - Zadok son of Ahitub was a Levite priest during the time of King David. For a long time, he was co-high priest with Abiathar. Zadok was a descendant of Aaron and a leader over his family of Levites (1 Chronicles 27:17).

When Absalom conspired against his father, David, David was forced to flee from Jerusalem (2 Samuel 15:13–14). Zadok and his son Ahimaaz, and his co-priest Abiathar and his son Jonathan accompanied David, with Zadok leading a procession of Levites who carried the ark of the covenant. As the people exited the city, Zadok's Levites set down the ark, and Abiathar offered sacrifices (verse 24). Once the people had vacated Jerusalem, David ordered Zadok and Abiathar, along with their sons, to return with the ark to Jerusalem (verse 25). Zadok was to send word to David with any news of what was happening in the kingdom under Absalom.

David had also sent his friend Hushai back to Jerusalem to listen in on Absalom's plans, and it was through him that Zadok and Abiathar heard that Absalom planned to seek out David and destroy him and the people who were with him. Hushai, Zadok, and Abiathar sent Ahimaaz and Jonathan to find David. After hiding in a well from Absalom's men, Ahimaaz and Jonathan were able to escape the city and bring the message to David: "Do not spend the night at the fords in the wilderness; cross over without fail, or the king and all the people with him will be swallowed up" (2 Samuel 17:16). David escaped, and it wasn't much longer before David's commander, Joab, killed Absalom (2 Samuel 18:1–15). Heartbroken at the death of his son, David returned to Jerusalem.

Years later, when King David was very old, his son Adonijah set himself up as king, even though David's other son Solomon was to take the throne at David's death (1 Kings 1:5). Adonijah had some supporters, including Abiathar the priest, but Zadok, Nathan the prophet, and several other important men supported David's choice and opposed Adonijah (verse 8). Nathan told David's wife Bathsheba what Adonijah was planning and advised her to apprise King David of the situation. She did so, and David ordered that Zadok and Nathan immediately take Solomon to Gihon and anoint him as king (verses 32–34).

When Zadok the priest anointed Solomon's head with oil at Gihon, a trumpet was sounded, and all the people assembled began to shout and rejoice (1 Kings 1:39–40). The noise was so great that Adonijah, who was feasting nearby, heard it and wondered what was happening. At that moment, Abiathar's son Jonathan arrived and told Adonijah that Solomon had been anointed king (verses 41–45). Adonijah fled to the temple and grabbed the horns of the altar, begging Solomon to spare his life (verses 50–51). Solomon did so, but Adonijah later renewed his designs on the throne, forcing Solomon to execute him (1 Kings 2:13–25).

Even though Abiathar had spurned King David's wishes and supported Adonijah, Zadok stayed true to David and supported Solomon. Abiathar lost his priesthood as a result, but Zadok was rewarded with a position as one of Solomon's chief officials (1 Kings 4:4) as well as being recognized as the sole high priest.

There are several other men named Zadok in the Bible, but they are only mentioned in one or two verses apiece. They can be found in 1 Chronicles 6:12 (Zadok the descendant of Zadok the priest), 1 Chronicles 9:11 and Nehemiah 11:11 (Zadok the Levite), 2 Kings 15:33 and 2 Chronicles 27:1 (Zadok the father of Jerusha), Nehemiah 3:4 (Zadok the son of Baana), Nehemiah 3:29 (Zadok the son of Immer), Nehemiah 10:21 (Zadok the Israelite leader), Nehemiah 13:13 (Zadok the scribe), and Matthew 1:14 (Zadok, an ancestor of Jesus Christ). QUESTION - Who was Nathan in the Bible?

ANSWER - Nathan was a prophet in the Bible who lived during the reign of King David in Israel. God spoke to David through Nathan on several occasions. Nathan was a member of David's royal court and one of his closest advisers. Nathan apparently also knew Bathsheba well enough to speak to her about Adonijah's attempt to usurp David's throne from her son, Solomon (1 Kings 1:11) and to enlist her help in bringing the matter to the king. There are three or four stories in the Bible featuring Nathan that occurred during some of the darkest and most emotional times in David's life.

The first mention of Nathan establishes his relationship with David as a trusted adviser. David decides to build God a house, because the king is living in a beautiful cedar palace and thinks it wrong that the Ark of the Covenant should be housed in a lowly tent (the tabernacle). David tells Nathan about his plans to build a house for God, and Nathan says he should go ahead and do it because the Lord is with him (2 Samuel 7:2–3). Then God visits Nathan in a vision and tells him to return to David and inform him that God doesn't need the king to build him a house; rather, God would establish David's dynasty, through his son, forever. His son Solomon would be the one to build God's house (2 Samuel 7:4–17). Nathan relays this important message to the king, and David utters a grateful and beautiful prayer to God for His grace (2 Samuel 7:18–29).

The next time Nathan is mentioned, it is after David had committed adultery with Bathsheba and brought about her husband's death to hide her pregnancy (2 Samuel 12:1). At that point, David had made Bathsheba his wife and had seemingly gotten away with his sin, but the Lord knew about it and told Nathan to rebuke David. Nathan went to David and wisely told the king a fable about a rich man and a poor man: the rich man was visited by a traveler, so he took the poor man's only possession, a little ewe lamb that he loved as a pet, to feed his guest—rather than taking a lamb from his own extensive flocks. David was enraged at the story and declared that the rich man had no pity and deserved to die. Nathan then points to David and says, "You are the man!" (2 Samuel 12:7). Nathan reveals that David's sin was like that of the rich man, because David took away Uriah's wife. Nathan then prophesies to David, in God's own words: "I anointed you king over Israel, and I delivered you out of the hand of Saul. And I gave you your master's house and your master's wives into your arms and gave you the house of Israel and of Judah. And if this were too little, I would add to you as much more. Why have you despised the word of the LORD, to do what is evil in his sight? You have struck down Uriah the Hittite with the sword and have taken his wife to be your wife and have killed him with the sword of the Ammonites. Now therefore the sword shall never depart from your house, because you have despised me and have taken the wife of Uriah the Hittite to be your wife" (2 Samuel 12:7–10). David confesses to Nathan that he has sinned against the Lord, and Nathan comforts him, saying that the Lord has forgiven his sin and that David's life will not be required of him. Nonetheless, David's child by Bathsheba was to die. David, under inspiration of the Holy Spirit, pens Psalm 51 after this encounter with Nathan the prophet.

After the death of David's child, his wife Bathsheba became pregnant again, this time with a son whom they named Solomon. The Lord sent Nathan to David again, this time to say that the Lord loved his son Solomon, and they called Solomon "Jedidiah," a name that means "beloved of the Lord" (2 Samuel 12:24–25). Solomon later built God's house, the temple, and became an ancestor of the Lord Jesus Christ.

1 Chronicles 3:5 reveals the fact that King David and Queen Bathsheba named one of their sons born to them in Jerusalem "Nathan." No doubt, the child's name is a reflection of the royal couple's appreciation for the prophet Nathan's faithfulness, friendship, and tough love through the years. GotQuestions.org

QUESTION - Who was Benaiah in the Bible?

ANSWER - Several men in the Bible bear the name Benaiah, but one stands out from the rest. Benaiah, son of the chief priest Jehoiada, was one of David's "mighty men"—his toughest military troop. The Bible describes Benaiah as a fearless warrior noted for his heroic exploits. This Benaiah is the brilliant fighter who famously "went down into a pit on a snowy day and killed a lion" (1 Chronicles 11:22).

Benaiah was from the southern Judean city of Kabzeel. Before David became king, Benaiah was making a name for himself through numerous daring military achievements: "He struck down Moab's two mightiest warriors. He also went down into a pit on a snowy day and killed a lion. And he struck down a huge Egyptian. Although the Egyptian had a spear in his hand, Benaiah went against him with a club. He snatched the spear from the Egyptian's hand and killed him with his own spear. Such were the exploits of Benaiah son of Jehoiada; he too was as famous as the three mighty warriors" (2 Samuel 23:20–22).

When David fled from King Saul, he placed Benaiah in command of "the thirty" (1 Chronicles 27:6), a select group of warriors second only to "the three" of highest rank and bravery. Later, when Joab was made commander-in-chief, Benaiah was appointed to a high place in David's armed forces as commander of the Cherethites and Pelethites, an elite mercenary company in David's bodyguard from Crete and Philistia (2 Samuel 8:18; 20:23; 23:23; 1 Chronicles 18:17).

Benaiah's loyalty to King David earned him the rank of third army commander, with 24,000 men in his division. This troop served as part of the army rotation system established by King David (1 Chronicles 27:1–6). Benaiah remained devoted to David during Absalom's rebellion (2 Samuel 20:23; see also 15:18) and also when Adonijah attempted to take control of David's throne (1 Kings 1:8).

Benaiah was instrumental in safeguarding the passing of the royal succession to Solomon after David's death and thus gained the honor of assisting in Solomon's coronation at Gihon (1 Kings 1:32–40). As Solomon's supreme army commander and chief bodyguard, Benaiah was responsible for executing those who opposed the new king, including Adonijah, Joab, and Shimei (1 Kings 2:25, 34, 46).

Benaiah, a popular Hebrew name, means "the Lord has built." Other men named Benaiah in the Bible include a warrior from the town of Pirathon, who was also one of David's mighty men (2 Samuel 23:30; 1 Chronicles 11:31). This Benaiah was commander of 24,000 troops as well, in the eleventh division of King David's army (1 Chronicles 27:14).

First Chronicles 4:36 mentions a Benaiah as a descendant of Simeon and leader of his tribe. This Benaiah participated in the conquest of Gedor during Hezekiah's reign. Another Benaiah was one of the musicians and priests who blew the trumpet as the ark of God was brought into Jerusalem by King David (1 Chronicles 15:24). Later, he was appointed to minister in music regularly before the ark of the covenant (1 Chronicles 16:6). At least eight other Benaiahs appear briefly in the Old Testament (1 Chronicles 27:34; 2 Chronicles 20:14; 31:13; Ezra 10:25, 30, 35, 43; 11:1, 13). But none of these distinguish themselves like David's elite warrior, the Benaiah who single-handedly executed Moab's top soldiers, jumped into a pit in a snowstorm to wrestle and kill a lion, and outmaneuvered an Egyptian giant, slaying him with his own spear. QUESTION - Who were the mighty men of David?

ANSWER - 2 Samuel 23:8–39+ and 1 Chronicles 11:10–47 list a group of people known as mighty men of David or David's mighty men. They are also referred to as the "thirty chiefs" (1 Chronicles 11:15) and simply "the Thirty" (1 Chronicles 12:4). These mighty men of David were a group of David's toughest military warriors who were credited with heroic feats, including Josheb-basshebeth, who killed 800 men in one battle with a spear (2 Samuel 23:8).

Additional notable actions listed include the deeds of a man named Eleazar, who stayed on the battlefield when other warriors fled and killed Philistines until his hand was stuck clenched around his sword (2 Samuel 23:9–10); and the exploits of Abishai, the leader of the mighty men, who killed 300 men with a spear (2Sa 23:18).

Benaiah was known for going into a pit on a snowy day and killing a lion and for killing a powerful Egyptian man with the man's own spear (2 Samuel 23:20–21). He also served as leader of David's bodyguards (23:23).

Within this list of mighty men are three men who served as a special elite group: Josheb-basshebeth, Eleazar, and Shammah. Their exact roles are not made clear, but they were certainly seen as stand-outs among David's mighty men.

Although the mighty men are called "the Thirty," a total of 37 men are listed, meaning that not all of these men were on the team the entire time. Some of them, like Uriah, were killed in battle during David's reign. Another explanation may be that David's elite group of mighty men numbered approximately 30, a figure not meant to be exact.

Some of these mighty men of David had considerable military skill and the blessing of God. David's mighty men served an important role in protecting the king and fighting for the freedom of their nation, the land of Israel.

The full list of the mighty men of David is located in 2 Samuel 23:1-39 (ED: SEE NOTES - 2Sa 23:39 = Uriah the Hittite). GotQuestions.org

ADONIJAH THROWS A "COMING OUT" PARTY

And Adonijah sacrificed sheep and oxen and fatlings by the stone of Zoheloth ("a crawling thing"), which is beside En-rogel (see map above - then see map of Gihon Springs which must be very close); and he invited all his brothers, the king's sons, and all the men of Judah, the king's servants - This was essentially a coronation banquet (1Ki 1:25; 2Sa 15:12) close to Jerusalem (cf. Josh. 18:16). The guest list included all of Adonijah's brothers (i.e., the king's sons) (of which there would have been up to 19+/-), all the men of Judah (presumably important men or officials) and the king's servants (one has to believe they did not remain the new king's servants!)

Ryrie Study Bible \(borrow\) has an interesting comment - As a prelude to taking over the throne, Adonijah held a feast but failed to invite Nathan and Solomon. He apparently was planning to kill them, for, had they eaten together, he would have been obliged to protect them. (bold added for emphasis)

Zoheloth ["that creeps, slides, or draws"] the serpent-stone, a rocky plateau near the centre of the village of Siloam, and near the fountain of En-rogel, to which the women of the village resort for water (1 Kings 1:5-9). Here Adonijah (q.v.) feasted all the royal princess except Solomon and the men who took part with him in his effort to succeed to the throne. While they were assembled here Solomon was proclaimed king, through the intervention of Nathan. On hearing this, adonijah fled and took refuge in the sanctuary (1 Kings 1:49-53). He was afterwards pardoned. Zoheloth projects into or slightly over-hangs the Kidron valley. It is now called ez-Zehwell or Zahweileh.

IVP Background Commentary - En Rogel. This spring is only about 650 yards south of the Gihon Spring in the Kidron Valley (see comment on 1:33) and only about a half mile from David's palace. The choice of this location for the ceremony is probably due to the fact that the spring lies at the junction of the territory of Benjamin and Judah (presumably suggesting both would have access to its water supply). Adonijah's support base can therefore be inferred as comprising the tribal alliances that brought David to power. His support by Joab and Abiathar would also represent this traditional element. The stone of Zoheloth is sometimes translated Serpent Rock and likely refers to a distinctive rock that had some ritual traditions associated with it.

But - Another clear contrast between conspirators and loyalists.

he did not invite Nathan the prophet, Benaiah, the mighty men, and Solomon his brother - Nathan was a prophet and the confidential advisor of David. His watchfulness put an end to the coup of Adonijah and saved the kingdom for Solomon. Benaiah, a commander of David's army and a mighty warrior, was fiercely loyal to David. He was also a key military figure who would later support Solomon (1 Kings 1:38-40). The mighty men were David's elite warriors, known for their unmatched loyalty to him. They would naturally support David's chosen successor, not someone self-appointed.

NATHAN QUERIES QUEEN BATHSHEBA

Then - Time phrase in this case marking an important progression in this dramatic narrative of palace intrigue.

Nathan spoke to Bathsheba the mother of Solomon, saying, "Have you not heard that Adonijah the son of Haggith has become king, and David our lord does not know it - Apparently Adonijah had by now announced himself as king of Israel and Nathan's question suggests Bathsheba was not yet aware of the situation and the danger it would bring.

Note the phrase David our lord does not know it which demonstrates how far removed from power David really was that he did not know what was going on in the inner circles of his own kingdom.

Matthew Henry Concise - Verses 11-31. Observe Nathan's address to Bathsheba. Let me give thee counsel how to save thy own life, and the life of thy son. Such as this is the counsel Christ's ministers give us in his name, to give all diligence, not only that no man take our crown, Revelation 3:11, but that we save our lives, even the lives of our souls. David made a solemn declaration of his firm cleaving to his former resolution, that Solomon should be his successor. Even the recollection of the distresses from which the Lord redeemed him, increased his comfort, inspired his hopes, and animated him to his duty, under the decays of nature and the approach of death.

QUESTION - Who was Bathsheba in the Bible? | GotQuestions.org

ANSWER - Bathsheba, the daughter of Eliam, was initially married to Uriah the Hittite, one of David's loyal soldiers (2 Samuel 11:3). However, she later became the wife of King David and the mother of King Solomon (2 Samuel 11:27; 12:24). The name Bathsheba means "daughter of abundance." The Bible describes her as "very beautiful" (2 Samuel 11:2).

Bathsheba is best known for the story of David's adultery, as described in 2 Samuel 11. This narrative highlights the contrast between the faithfulness of Uriah and Bathsheba and David's lustful desires. One evening, Bathsheba was taking a bath, probably to purify herself according to the Law of Moses (2 Samuel 11:2, 4). David saw her bathing and desired her. Despite knowing of Bathsheba's marriage to Uriah, David summoned her to the palace and slept with her. Later, Bathsheba sends word to David that she is pregnant (2 Samuel 11:5).

In an attempt to conceal his sin, David called Uriah back from battle, hoping that Uriah would sleep with Bathsheba (2 Samuel 11:6-10). However, Uriah, remaining faithful to his duty as a soldier, chose not to go home to his wife (2 Samuel 11:11). Frustrated by this, David devised a wicked plan to send Uriah to the front line of the battle. At the same time, David instructed Joab, the army commander, to withdraw, leading to Uriah's death at the hands of the enemy (2 Samuel 11:14-25).

Bathsheba received the devastating news of her husband's death on the battlefield and mourned for Uriah (2 Samuel 11:26). Subsequently, Bathsheba became David's wife. Unfortunately, the sorrow did not end there. David and Bathsheba's newborn baby, unnamed in the narrative, died just seven days after birth as a consequence of David's sin (2 Samuel 12:18). In Psalm 51 David confesses his sin with Bathsheba and prays for forgiveness.

As queen, Bathsheba bore Solomon, her second son, who later became the king of Israel (2 Samuel 12:24). This son was dearly loved by God and given the name Jedidiah, which means “loved by the Lord.” In modern terms, Bathsheba experienced the joy of a “rainbow baby.”

Bathsheba recedes from the biblical narrative until later, when she plays a crucial role in securing Solomon’s succession to the throne (1 Kings 1:11–35). When Adonijah, another son of David, declared himself as the king of Israel during David’s old age, the prophet Nathan reminded Bathsheba of David’s oath that Solomon would be his successor. Bathsheba and Nathan promptly approached David to remind him of his promise. Bathsheba bowed before King David and told him of Adonijah’s actions. Then she emphasized the dire situation she and Solomon faced: “My lord the king, the eyes of all Israel are on you, to learn from you who will sit on the throne of my lord the king after him. Otherwise, as soon as my lord the king is laid to rest with his ancestors, I and my son Solomon will be treated as criminals” (1 Kings 1:20–21). Nathan confirmed Bathsheba’s report. Consequently, David gave the order, and Solomon was officially crowned as the king of Israel.

There are a few additional details to note about Bathsheba. After Solomon ascended to the throne, Bathsheba innocently assisted Adonijah in requesting that Solomon allow him to marry Abishag the Shunammite, who had been David’s platonic companion (1 Kings 2:13–21). Solomon rejected the request, recognizing that Adonijah was attempting to use Bathsheba to finagle his way to the throne. Solomon had Adonijah executed along with everyone else who took part in the plot to wrest the throne from him (verses 22–35).

Many scholars argue that Bathsheba may have been the mother of Lemuel mentioned in Proverbs 31:1–9. Considering that King Lemuel is believed to be a nickname for Solomon, it is possible that Bathsheba, as his mother, instructed him to walk in reverence of the Lord. Also, in the genealogy of Jesus provided in Matthew 1:1–17, Bathsheba is indirectly referred to in verse 6 as “the wife of Uriah” (ESV).

Bathsheba’s story reminds us that God has a plan, and He can work even through difficult situations with imperfect people to bring about something good. Queen Bathsheba, despite the unsavory events surrounding her coming to the palace, became the mother of the wisest and most successful king ever to grace the throne.

Why then has Adonijah become king - Note that David making a promise to Bathsheba that Solomon would be king is not recorded earlier in Samuel. Clearly Nathan knew of this promise which would in part prompt him to come to Bathsheba, reminding her she had an "ace to be played."

Guzik on David's promise to Bathsheba - "The specific promise is not recorded before, but we know from 1 Chronicles 22:5-9 that David did in fact intend for Solomon to succeed him as king. Guzik has an interesting insight on why Nathan said he would follow Bathsheba - Nathan knew that David was generally indulgent towards his sons and would find it hard to believe that Adonijah would do such a thing. He arranged it so the message would be presented in a convincing way.

BATHSHEBA EXPLAINS IF DAVID DIES SHE & SOLOMON IN DANGER

Otherwise it will come about, as soon as my lord the king sleeps with his fathers, that I and my son Solomon will be considered offenders - NET = "my son Solomon and I will be considered state criminals." Bathsheba knew her life and that of Solomon was in grave, imminent danger. The history of the world demonstrates, that the lust for absolute power (like Adonijah's) corrupts absolutely and has tempted many men to commit the most heinous of crimes including a father destroying his son, a son being deposed by a father, a brother murdering a brother, etc, all motivated by coveting a crown and the power it conveyed!

Utley - "sleeps with his fathers" This is an idiom for death and burial in the family tomb. It is not meant to convey the state of the dead. The Hebrews believed in a conscious but joyless afterlife until the new age. The state of the dead is a matter of "progressive revelation." The NT gives a much clearer picture. Read his interesting topic WHERE ARE THE DEAD?

IVP Background Commentary - treatment of claimants to the throne. There is wide precedent in Mesopotamian texts for the elimination of all rival claimants to the throne when a king comes to power. Such purges also occurred years later as a form of revenge for political opposition or rebellion attempted against previous rulers. One way to better understand Bathsheba's fears for herself and her son Solomon is to look at the murder of the Assyrian king Sennacherib in 681 B.C. by his sons. Although the king had designated his son Esarhaddon as his successor, civil war broke out with portions of the military taking sides. Esarhaddon finally secured the throne and had those guilty of the murder of their father executed. Such intrigue surrounding the succession to the throne was not unusual in the ancient Near East. There had been bloody strife between David's sons in the past (see 2 Sam 13—15), and a general purge of other claimants might well occur after David's death. Esarhaddon solved the problem for his successor by having his treaty partners sign an agreement to support the disposition of his two sons as king of Assyria and of Babylonia respectively.

NATHAN MAKES HIS PLANNED ENTRY

Behold (hinneh; Lxx - idou) while she was still speaking with the king, Nathan the prophet came in- As promised in 1Ki 1:14 Nathan makes his entrance "on cue," so to speak.

Guzik - The last place we saw Nathan was in 2 Samuel 12:1-15, where he rebuked his friend David over the scandal with Bathsheba and the murder of Uriah. Yet now, at the end of his days, David received Nathan; the sense is that he remained a trusted friend. David did not treat Nathan as an enemy when he confronted him with a painful truth.

Trapp points out that "So far was David from hatred of the truth, that he loved Nathan the better for his plain dealing while he lived, gave him free access to his bed-chamber, and now nameth him a commissioner for the declaring of his successor."

1 Kings 1:23 They told the king, saying, "Here is Nathan the prophet." And when he came in before the king, he prostrated himself before the king with his face to the ground.

NATHAN BEGINS WITH A QUESTION

Then Nathan said, "My lord the king, have you said, 'Adonijah shall be king after me, and he shall sit on my throne- This is clearly a "setup" question, for Nathan knows the answer. But now David in a sense has "two witnesses" who are saying the same thing about Adonijah.

1 Kings 1:25 "For he has gone down today and has sacrificed oxen and fatlings and sheep in abundance, and has invited all the king's sons and the commanders of the army and Abiathar the priest, and behold, they are eating and drinking before him; and they say, 'Long live King Adonijah!'

And so here Nathan is more specific than Bathsheba was and not only implies Joab (king's...commanders) is involved but the king's priest Abiathar is also involved in what is in effect a conspiracy (a secret plan by a group to do something unlawful or harmful.)

But me, even me your servant, and Zadok the priest and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada and your servant Solomon, he has not invited - Nathan explains the names that did not make Adonijah's guest list to his coronation celebration. The king might be old, but he is surely putting two and two together and beginning to realize that what Bathsheba expressed as fears in 1Ki 1:21 could soon become a reality.

DAVID MAKES A DIVINE VOW

The king vowed and said, "As the LORD lives, who has redeemed my life from all distress- Even in his oath David acknowledges it is the living LORD Who had rescued him from every danger, and his situation would classify as one that was dangerous for those not allied with Adonijah. With this solemn vow David confirmed the promise he had made to Bathsheba, that her son Solomon would become the next king.

Uteley - "As the Lord lives" This is an oath using YHWH's name (cf. 1Ki 1:30). The name is a word play on the VERB "to be." "who has redeemed my life from all distress" This is obviously a hyperbolic statement. David recognized that YHWH had blessed him but his life had many stressful moments (cf. 2Sa 4:9).

F B Meyer - 1 Kings 1:29 As the Lord liveth, that hath redeemed my soul out of all distress.

"In my distress I called on the Lord, and cried to my God." Never let there be distress without its cry. He will hear your voice out of His temple, and your cry will come before Him even into His ears. He will answer, and set you in a large place. There is even a gain to be won from distress, because it brings out new phases of Christ's redemptive help.

God redeemed David from the calumny of those who maligned him without cause. In so many of his Psalms he refers to the unjust and cruel hatred which misrepresented him and his doings. But God, to whom he committed his cause, vindicated him, so that his righteousness shone as the light, and his judgment as the noonday. So He will do for you. Those who now lay all manner of unkind charges to your door, will be compelled to admit your innocence. Only leave your cause with God, and be still.

God redeemed David from all the afflictions that shadowed his early days: from his wanderings in the wilderness; from his hairbreadth escapes in the caves; from meeting his death on many a terrible battlefield. We hardly realize, just now, how much we owe to the Angel of God's redemption, who is ever beside us, environing us with careful love, so that no evil may approach us, or snare take our feet. Our pathway is thick with snares and dangers, as the pilgrims found it when journeying through the valley of the shadow; but there is a way out, and in the morning we shall marvel to see how we escaped.

God redeemed David's life from destruction. This was the greatest miracle of all, when we consider the strong passions that slumbered within him, breaking out whenever he broke loose from God's grace

DAVID ASSURES BATHSHEBA SOLOMON WILL BE KING

Surely as I vowed to you by the LORD the God of Israel, saying, 'Your son Solomon shall be king after me, and he shall sit on my throne in my place'; I will indeed do so this day - David reaffirms his previous oath to Bathsheba regarding Solomon, who he calls "your son." It seems that even though David had designated Solomon as the next king, the announcement had never been made public.

What is David saying? Basically he is moving fast (I will indeed do so this day) The implication is that David would abdicate the throne and give the crown to Solomon.

1 Kings 1:31 Then Bathsheba bowed with her face to the ground, and prostrated herself before the king and said, "May my lord King David live forever."

Then - This marks progression in the narrative, and this case a "sigh of relief" for Bathsheba.

Bathsheba bowed with her face to the ground, and prostrated (shachah; LXX - proskuneo) herself before the king and said, "May my lord King David live forever - A strange sounding sentence to David who was near the end! Once again she shows her reverential respect for the king in posture and pronouncement ("live forever").

1 Kings 1:32 Then King David said, "Call to me Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada." And they came into the king's presence.

KING CALLS FOR HIS LOYAL MEN

Then - The narrative progresses as David prepares to pronounce his solution to this potentially dangerous dilemma.

King David said, "Call to me Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, and Benaiah the son of Jehoiada." And they came into the king's presence - David assembles his religious, spiritual and military leaders to make his pronouncement.

Matthew Henry Concise - Verses 32-53. The people expressed great joy and satisfaction in the elevation of Solomon. Every true Israelite rejoices in the exaltation of the Son of David. Combinations formed upon evil principles will soon be dissolved, when self-interest calls another way. How can those who do evil deeds expect to have good tidings? Adonijah had despised Solomon, but soon dreaded him. We see here, as in a glass, Jesus, the Son of David and the Son of God, exalted to the throne of glory, notwithstanding all his enemies. His kingdom is far greater than that of his father David, and therein all the true people of God cordially rejoice. The prosperity of his cause is vexation and terror to his enemies. No horns of the altar, nor forms of godliness, nor pretences to religion, can profit those who will not submit to His authority, and accept of his salvation; and if their submission be hypocritical, they shall perish without remedy.

DAVID'S INSTRUCTION SOLOMON ON KING'S MULE

The king said to them, "Take with you the servants of your lord, and have my son Solomon ride on my own mule, and bring him down to Gihon - David's declaration for his son Solomon to ride on the king's mule was ample evidence that he had appointed Solomon as his successor. Gihon was the name of a spring in Jerusalem, evidently sacred, and, for that reason, selected as the scene of Solomon's coronation (1 Ki 1:33, 38, 45).

Regarding the statement ride on my own mule Maimonides said that it was a capital offence for any one to ride on the king's mule, to sit on his throne, or to handle his sceptre, without permission.

IVP Background Commentary - the king's mule. During the early monarchy the proper animal for the king to ride was the mule (see 2 Sam 18:9). Precedent for this practice is found in a Mari letter containing a suggestion to King Zimri-Lim that it would be more in keeping with the dignity of the monarch if he rode in a cart pulled by mules rather than by horses. It is also possible that horses were not in general use by the Israelites until later periods. During this period mules were two or three times more expensive than horses. They were imported and, of course, could not reproduce. Gihon. This is a spring now known as 'En Sitti Maryam in the Kidron Valley just below the east slope of David's Jerusalem (see comment on 2 Sam 5:8). In contrast to Adonijah's support base in the traditional tribal groups, Solomon's base appears to be in the royal city, Jerusalem, itself. The Gihon spring, as Jerusalem's water supply, is therefore a fit setting for this ceremony.

ANOINT & ANNOUNCE SOLOMON AS KING

Let Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet anoint him there as king over Israel, and blow the trumpet (shophar) - David's priest and prophet backed by the trumpet blast would make it clear to all who David (and God) had selected as the next king.

And say, 'Long live King Solomon = KJV - God save king Solomon. (1Ki 1:34KJV)

IVP Background Commentary - anointing by priest and prophet. The pattern to this point had been for a prophet to anoint the prospective king (see the comment on 1 Sam 16:1). This provided divine sanction for him to rule. In the ancient Near East, priests often played significant political roles, but no prophets from the ancient Near East are known to have played the role of kingmaker. Now, with the first example of hereditary succession, it was appropriate that both the high priest and a prophet participate in this ceremony. In this way, both God (through the prophet) and the religious community that served the people and Yahweh (especially the Jerusalem sanctuary) recognized the king's right to rule.

Trumpet (horn, ram's horn)(07782) shophar/shopar/sopar is masculine noun referring to a trumpet or a ram's horn and is made out of a curved ram's horn. At Mt Sinai the trumpet was the signal that Israel could approach the awesome site (Ex 19:16; 19; 20:18). It was used to signal the year of Jubilee (Lev 25:9). Seven trumpets were to be carried before the Ark of the Covenant as the priests and blown on the seventh day after marching around the city seven times (Josh 6:4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 12, 16, 20). The trumpet was used by Gideon and his men to route the enemy (Jdg 7:8, 16, 18-20, 22). In short, these first three uses of the shophar were all associated with miraculous events! The shophar was sounded to announce a new king in Israel (1 Ki. 1:34, 39, 41; 2 Ki. 9:13). The trumpet was sounded at the celebration of God as King over all the earth (Ps. 47:5). The trumpet sound was used to warn of approaching danger (Hos. 5:8; 8:1), and here in Joel, to warn of the dread Day of the Lord (Joel 2:1, 15).

BENAIAH "AMEN'S" KING DAVID

Benaiah the son of Jehoiada answered the king and said, "Amen!" - Amen ("So be it!" NET) was used to acknowledge and emphasize what was valid, sure and true, or important and significant. Amen signified certainty and veracity!

Thus may the LORD, the God of my lord the king, say - NIV = "May the LORD, the God of my lord the king, so declare it."

Guzik - Amen! May the LORD God of my lord the king say so too Benaiah understood an important principle – that unless the LORD God said "Amen!" to the selection of Solomon, he would not stand. Benaiah sensed that this was the LORD's will, and offered the prayer that God would in fact say so too.

G Campbell Morgan - Amen: the Lord, the God of my lord the king say so too.—1 Kings 1.36.

'As the days of David ran out, trouble arose in the kingdom through his son Adonijah. A remarkable statement is made concerning the training, or lack of training, of this man, which throws light on his action: "His father had not displeased him at any time in saying, "Why hast thou done so?" " He now sought to secure the kingdom for himself and was joined in his rebellion by Joab and Abiathar. David took prompt action, and Solomon was crowned king. When David gave his instructions to his loyal men, he said concerning Solomon: "I have appointed him to be prince over Israel and over Judah." To this Benaiah replied: "Amen: Jehovah, the God of my lord the king say so, too"; thus showing himself to be a man understanding the matters which are of real importance. This should be, not only the prayer we pray in connection with all the arrangements we make for our service, but the principle upon which we act in making those arrangements. In this case it certainly was so, for it was within the Divine purpose that Solomon should succeed David. According to Nathan, there were of the people who had already said, "Long live king Adonijah!" Now others of them would say, "Long live king Solomon!" In these words Benaiah appealed to the Divine arbitrament. His "Amen" signified his personal agreement; but he knew the importance of the Divine approval. No elections are really valid, and no choices of any lasting value, except the Lord say so too (Borrow Life applications from every chapter of the Bible)

SOLOMON'S RULE

As the LORD has been with my lord the king, so may He be with Solomon, and make his throne greater than the throne of my lord King David - This is a continuation of Benaiah's prayer/blessing upon Solomon, asking for Solomon's reign to be even greater than David's reign (which is quite a bold "ask").

Guzik - This pious wish of Benaiah had an interesting fulfillment. On a human level, Solomon's reign was indeed greater than David's. But on a spiritual, eternal level, it was not.

1 Kings 1:38 So Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, the Cherethites, and the Pelethites went down and had Solomon ride on King David's mule, and brought him to Gihon.

- king David's: 1Ki 1:33

LOYALISTS OBEY DAVID'S DIRECTIVE

So - For this reason.

Zadok the priest, Nathan the prophet, Benaiah the son of Jehoiada, the Cherethites, and the Pelethites went down and had Solomon ride on King David's mule, and brought him to Gihon - Gihon is just to the East of Mt Zion and En-rogel (site of Adonijah's celebration) was south of the city. This would make for a strange mix in the whole area of rival celebrations.

Guzik on mule - Apparently, this was the Old Testament equivalent to a presidential motorcade. The mule was something special in ancient Israel. "Since Hebraic law forbade crossbreeding (Leviticus 19:19), mules had to be imported and were therefore very expensive. So while the common people rode donkeys, the mule was reserved for royalty." (Dilday) "No subject could use any thing that belonged to the prince, without forfeiting his life. As David offered Solomon to ride on his own mule, this was full evidence that he had appointed him his successor." (Clarke)

Patterson and Austel "Gihon, the site of the anointing, was just outside the city in the Kidron Valley, on the east bank of Ophel. It was at this time Jerusalem's major source of water and was therefore a natural gathering place of the populace".

Cherethites, and the Pelethites - Exactly who the Kerethites and Pelethites were is not known, and commentators are equally divided in their opinions about them. Some say they were people who probably lived with the Philistines, or a bit south of them and so adopted Philistine names: "We made an invasion upon the south (Negev, NIV) of the Cherethites" (1 Samuel 30:14). They may have come from Crete. 2Sa 8:18 indicates that David used them as his personal bodyguards. But many scholars don't believe that David would have employed foreign soldiers to guard him, so they say these may have been Israelites who lived for some time among the Philistines and so adopted foreign names. Whatever the case, in the Book of Ezekiel the LORD pronounced judgment upon them (Ezekiel 25:16), as He did in the Book of Zephaniah (Zephaniah 2:5), both of which seem to indicate that the Kerethites and Pelethites were Philistine soldiers. (Borrow Freeman's Manners & Customs of the Bible, page 230)

Cherethites - 10v - 1Sa 30:14; 2Sa 8:18; 2Sa 15:18; 2Sa 20:7; 2Sa 20:23; 1Ki. 1:38; 1Ki. 1:44; 1Ch 18:17; Ezek. 25:16; Zeph. 2:5

Pelethites - 7v - 2 Sam. 8:18; 2 Sam. 15:18; 2 Sam. 20:7; 2 Sam. 20:23; 1 Ki. 1:38; 1 Ki. 1:44; 1 Chr. 18:17

Utley - "the Cherethites, and the Pelethites" These were the Philistine, or at least Aegean, mercenary soldiers who had followed David (cf. 2 Sam. 8:18; 15:18; 20:7,23).

QUESTION - Who were the Cherethites in the Bible?

ANSWER - The Cherethites are mentioned ten times in the Old Testament. (The NIV uses the spelling Kerethite, and one time the KJV uses the term Cherethims while using Cherethites the other times.)

Based on 1 Samuel 30:14, "We had made a raid against the Negeb of the Cherethites and against that which belongs to Judah and against the Negeb of Caleb, and we burned Ziklag with fire" (ESV), it seems that Cherethites is another name for the Philistines. It could also be that the Cherethites were a sub-group of Philistines or a people closely associated with the Philistines. Ezekiel 25:16 and Zephaniah 2:5 make the same connection.

The other times that the Cherethites are mentioned are in association with King David. There were people from the surrounding lands who were loyal to David, and he had squads of soldiers/mercenaries who appear to have been organized by nationality. For instance, 2 Samuel 15:18 tells us, "And all his servants passed by him, and all the Cherethites, and all the Pelethites, and all the six hundred Gittites who had followed him from Gath, passed on before the king" (ESV).

So, the Cherethites were a defined group within or closely associated with the Philistines. The Old Testament does not intend to say that all of the Cherethites were loyal to David, but that there were some Cherethites who were loyal to him. Beyond that, the Old Testament simply does not give any more information on the Cherethites. GotQuestions.org

Rod Mattoon - When you look at the history of Jerusalem, you find two sons of David have ridden through her streets on a mule amid the shouts and praises of people. Those two sons were Solomon and centuries later, Jesus.

- Their triumphal ride came after an anointing. A prophet or priest anointed Solomon to be king. The Holy Spirit anointed Jesus to be king, priest, and prophet.
- Each rode through the city as king. The people cried, "God save king Solomon." In Jesus' time they shouted, "Blessed is the king that cometh in the name of the Lord (Luke 19:38)."
- Each rode as a son of David. To Jesus they said, "Hosanna to the son of David (Matthew 21:9-15)."
- The differences between the two are first, all those who were great surrounded Solomon. The poor followed the Lord.
- Secondly, Solomon went to sit upon his throne. Jesus went to suffer on the cross.

THE PEOPLE ACCEPT SOLOMON'S ANOINTING

All the people went up after him, and the people were playing on flutes and rejoicing with great joy, so that the earth shook at their noise We use a similar expression in precisely the same sense: "They rent the air with their cries." Note all the people emphasizing the size of the following. This would be a decibel level to get attention of most everyone in Jerusalem and even slightly south of Jerusalem in En-rogel!

Utley - "so that the earth shook at their noise" The MT has "the earth was split" (BDB 131, KB 149, Niphal IMPERFECT with waw), which is an obvious hyperbolic statement. It is meant to convey that the coronation of Solomon was heard by those supporting Adonijah (v. 41).

Playing on flutes The pipe or flute was one of the most ancient, and one of the simplest, of instruments. It was originally merely a reed with holes bored in it at selected distances; from this it derived its Hebrew name chalil, which means bored through. As its use became more general it was made with greater care, and sometimes of other materials, such as brass or bronze, boxwood, animal horn, bone, or ivory. Sometimes a double pipe was used, one part being played with the right hand and the other with the left hand, and both sides of the pipe uniting at the mouthpiece. The pipe was used for times of merriment and joy. See 1 Samuel 10:5, Isaiah 5:12, and Luke 7:32. It also served to enliven journeys to the great feasts (Isaiah 30:29), even as music was used for several centuries in the Middle East to entertain companies of travelers. Sometimes, because of its soft wailing tones, the pipe was used at funerals (see Jeremiah 48:36 and Matthew 9:23, NIV). (Borrow Freeman's Manners & Customs of the Bible, page 232)

JOAB'S EARS CATCH A BAD SOUND

Now Adonijah and all the guests who were with him heard it as they finished eating. When Joab heard the sound of the trumpet, he said, "Why is the city making such an uproar Adonijah and his guests were at En Rogel about 2,000 feet south of Gihon Spring, hidden from it by an intervening hill. Thus, it was near enough for this sound to have been heard, though Adonijah and his party were unable to see the anointing ceremony itself. Joab's reference to the city parallels the phrase all the people in the previous verse, indicating that he and the guest realized something "big" was happening! And also a cause for a bad case of indigestion!

Trapp - Adonijah's feast, as all wicked men's, endeth in horror; for the last dish, is served up astonishment and fearful expectation of just revenge."

IVP Background Commentary - noise in the city. Though En Rogel is only 250 yards from the southern wall of the city, it is much lower in elevation (near the southwestern end of the foot of the modern village of Silwan). Neither the activity in the city nor that at Gihon can be observed from that vantage point. Nonetheless, the commotion would easily carry across the valley.

SOLOMON ANOINTED KING AT GIHON ACCOUNTS FOR NOISE

Zadok the priest and Nathan the prophet have anointed him king in Gihon, and they have come up from there rejoicing, so that the city is in an uproar. This is the noise which you have heard - Solomon's anointing had led to rejoicing and an uproar which is what Joab had heard initially! Imagine how their hearts must have sunk at this news!

TSK Note on Gihon - This was a fountain on the west of Jerusalem, (consequently in an opposite direction to En-rogel on the east, where Adonijah was proclaimed king,) of which there were two pools, an upper and a lower. (2Ch 32:30.) There is a large square cistern in the ravine west of the city, mentioned by Dr. Richardson as a little to the south of the Jaffa gate, which Dr. Pococke describes as a basin about 250 paces long and 100 broad. It is commonly called the pool of Bathsheba, but seems to be the lower pool of Gihon. "Nearly a mile to the N.N.W. is the pool of Gihon, which I suppose to be the upper pool. It is a very large basin, and, if I mistake not, is cut down about ten feet into the rock, there being a way down to it by steps. It was almost dry at that time, and seems designed to receive the rain waters which come from the hills about it. There is a canal from the pool to the city, which is uncovered part of the way, and, it is said, goes to the pool in the streets near the holy sepulchre. The fountain of Gihon arose either in the upper pool, or out of the high ground above it."--Travels, book i. ch. 6.

ADONIJAH'S GUESTS TERRIFIED

Then - Time phrase. In this case marks dire straits for Adonijah's guest.

all the guests of Adonijah were terrified (charad; Lxx - existemi) - They were afraid and trembled with terror as it dawned on them what identification with Adonijah might cost them!

and they arose and each went on his way. Those who associated with Adonijah would be considered co-conspirators and now feared the fate that might befall them if Solomon sought revenge.

IVP Background Commentary - Adonijah's guests disperse. Adonijah's supporters apparently were willing to try to force the succession issue but had no stomach for civil war. Nor did they desire to be personally aligned with one who would undoubtedly now be labeled a rebel. It was clear that Solomon had gained the support of both the king and the political establishment of Jerusalem, and Adonijah's cause was a lost one.

Terrified (trembled, startle, frighten, make afraid, terrify) (02729) charad means to tremble, quake or shudder and describes human trembling before some strange or fearsome event. It conveys the idea of movement resulting from agitation, usually trembling coming from emotional trauma as when Isaac realized Jacob had deceived him and received Esau's blessing (Ge 27:33) or when Joseph's brothers who had abandoned him in a pit met him in Egypt (Ge 42:28). In the future Millennium Israel will forget her disgrace and treachery against Yahweh and will live securely in the promised land "with no one to make them afraid." (Ezek 39:26+, cf Micah 4:4+, cf Mic 4:1-3, also Zeph 3:13+) After Jonathan and his armor bearer had slaughtered about 20 Philistines, "there was a trembling (noun form charadah) in the camp, in the field, and among all the people. Even the garrison and the raiders trembled (verb - charad), and the earth quaked so that it became a greattrembling (noun form charadah)" (1Sa 14:15, cf Da 10:7).

The Septuagint translates charad in 1Ki 1:49 with existemi literally means to stand out from or to stand outside oneself (and thus to be beside oneself). To put out of position, to displace or to change. To remove from its place. For example Aristotle writes "you won't budge (existemi) me from my position on these matters." The NT uses of existemi are all related in some way to the human mind. Richards adds that existemi "suggests astonishment mixed with anxiety, stimulated by extraordinary events that cannot be explained." Existemi means to be amazed, astonished or astounded describing "the feeling of astonishment mingled with fear, caused by events which are miraculous, extraordinary, or difficult to understand." Existemi can also mean to not be able to reason normally, to become insane, to be out of one's senses, to be beside oneself.

ADONIJAH TERRIFIED & SEEKS ASYLUM

And Adonijah was afraid of Solomon, and he arose, went and took hold of the horns of the altar -Taking hold of the horns was a claim to protection, which was not automatically guaranteed (Ex 21:14+) and it certainly did not prove to be a place for the traitor Joab (1Ki 2:28-34). Note that this ancient custom was not used in Israel to protect a guilty man (and Adonijah was a guilty man)!

Utley - "took hold of the horns of the altar" This refers to the Sacrificial Altar, which had horns (symbol of power) on each corner. This was where part of the blood of the sacrifice was placed (cf. Exod. 27:2; 30:10). It was a special place of refuge (cf. Exod. 21:14; 1 Kgs. 2:28-29). TOPIC: THE ALTAR OF SACRIFICE

Horns of the altar. Taking hold of the horns of the altar was a claim to protection, but it was not automatically guaranteed. In Exodus 21:12–14 the LORD said: "Anyone who strikes a man and kills him shall surely be put to death. However, if he does not do it intentionally, but God lets it happen, he is to flee to a place I will designate. If a man schemes and kills another man deliberately, take him away from my altar and put him to death." And in 1 Kings 2:28–29 this is recorded: "When the news reached Joab, who had conspired with Adonijah though not with Absalom, he fled to the tent of the LORD and took hold of the horns of the altar. King Solomon was told that Joab had fled to the tent of the LORD and was beside the altar. Then Solomon ordered Benaiah son of Jehoiada, 'Go, strike him down!' " Cities of refuge were also appointed by the LORD for a person who killed someone accidentally (Numbers 35:15–32).

IVP Background Commentary - taking the horns of the altar. Adonijah claims the right of sanctuary when he grabs the horns of the altar (see Ex 21:13-14). Archaeological evidence of horned altars has been found at sites such as Beersheba (see comment on 2:28). Asylum, however, was supposed to be granted for unintentional homicide, and Adonijah's "crime" was presuming his right to rule as king.

HORNS OF THE ALTAR [ISBE] - (qare-noth ha-mizbeach):

1. The Brazen Altar: These projections at the four corners of the altar of burnt offering were of one piece with the altar, and were made of acacia wood overlaid with brass (Ex 27:2, "bronze"). In Ezekiel's altar-specifications their position is described as being on a level with the altar hearth (Ezek 43:15). Fugitives seeking asylum might cling to the horns of the altar, as did Adonijah (1Ki 1:50), which is one proof among many that worshippers had at all times access to the neighborhood of the altar. On certain occasions, as at the consecration of Aaron and his sons (Ex 29:12), and a sin offering for one of the people of the land (Lev 4:30), the horns were touched with sacrificial blood.

2. The Golden Altar: The altar of incense, standing in the outer chamber of the sanctuary, had also four horns, which were covered with gold (Ex 37:25). These were touched with blood in the case of a sin offering for a high priest, or for the whole congregation, if they had sinned unwittingly (Lev 4:7,18).

QUESTION - What was the significance of the horns of the altar?

ANSWER - In speaking of judgment, God says, "The horns of the altar shall be cut off and fall to the ground" (Amos 3:14). What were these horns of the altar? Why were they important?

The "horns" were horn-like projections at the four corners of the altar of burnt offering. God's instructions for the altar's construction specified "horns": "Make a horn at each of the four corners, so that the horns and the altar are of one piece" (Exodus 27:2).

During Amos's day, the Israelites had apostatized and had erected altars to false gods. 1 Kings 12:26-30 speaks of two such pagan altars set up in Israel, one in Dan and one in Bethel. These altars had been constructed with horns at the corners, akin to the altar in Jerusalem.

When God says that the horns of the altar would fall off, He is assuring Israel that He would judge their idolatry. Indeed, God says earlier in the same verse, "On the day I punish Israel for her sins, I will destroy the altars of Bethel."

The horns of the altar in Jerusalem had provided a refuge for fugitives. Those who caught hold of the horns of the altar were granted asylum (1 Kings 1:50-53). This use of the horns sheds additional light on God's statement in Amos 3:14. Some scholars believe that God's promise that the horns of the altar would fall to the ground meant that there would be no place of asylum, no place to escape the coming judgment.

Amos 3:15 indicates that the judgment would have deeply felt effects: "'I will tear down the winter house along with the summer house; the houses adorned with ivory will be destroyed and the mansions will be demolished,' declares the Lord." No amount of material prosperity would be able to save the wicked. God's judgment would destroy both the places of spiritual and material significance.

Yet the people of Israel would not be completely destroyed. Amos 3:12 says, "As the shepherd rescues from the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear, so shall the people of Israel who dwell in Samaria be rescued, with the corner of a couch and part of a bed." A remnant would survive. In their lowly state, they would be left only "the corner of a couch," living in a state of poverty.

God's desire in this prophecy was twofold. First, He longed for Israel to repent and turn from following other gods. Second, since these predictions did come true, they attest to God's supernatural ability to foretell the future.

The destruction of the horns of the altar represents the downfall of idolatry and the removal of all safe havens. When God's people refuse to heed His Word, He brings a just and curative discipline upon them. GotQuestions.org Solomon said, "If he is a worthy man, not one of his hairs will fall to the ground; but if wickedness is found in him, he will die Adonijah could show himself worthy by acknowledging Solomon as his king.

Guzik - Solomon gave Adonijah a limited reprieve. This went against all custom in the ancient world. It was common, even expected, that when a new king assumed the throne, he would execute every potential rival. Solomon not only let a potential rival live, but one who openly tried to subvert his reign. This was a large measure of grace and mercy on the part of Solomon, and a good start to his reign. At the same time, Solomon wanted Adonijah to know that if he should show the slightest inclination towards rebellion, he would be killed instantly. Mercy would be withdrawn and justice would be delivered quickly.

ADONIJAH HUMBLING HIMSELF BEFORE SOLOMON

So King Solomon sent, and they brought him down from the altar. And he came and prostrated himself before King Solomon, and Solomon said to him, "Go to your house" - His body was prostrate before Solomon, but subsequent events would prove his heart was not yielded to him as his king. In any event Solomon accepts his acknowledgement as his king and demonstrates mercy by allowing him to return to his own home. In so doing Solomon was expressing a degree of trust in Adonijah. He was in effect giving Adonijah a "good conduct reprieve."

Utiley - "not one of his hairs will fall to the ground" This is an idiom meaning "no harm at all will come to him" (cf. 1 Sam. 14:45; 2 Sam. 14:11).
